

The New Testament of Allah ®

Volume One

The Exoneration

Written by Eric Kingsley

Written and Edited by Eric Kingsley

ISBN 1-4196-7348-3

EricSeanX@Yahoo.com

TheNewTestamentofAllah.com

MySpace.com/EricSeanX

Published by Booksurge Publishing

A Subsidiary of Amazon.com

Marketed by Qpit Media

7960 Soquel Drive, Suite B405

Aptos, CA 95003

Telephone: (888) 617-0025

Fax: (480) 287-9853

Federal Tax ID 20-8673214

Incorporated in Delaware

The New Testament of Allah Trademark

Media Series of Eric Kingsley

Pending Approval by the USPTO

Made in the USA

© Eric Kingsley 2007

All Rights Reserved

Dedication

This book is dedicated to God and to the United States of America. If one suicide bomber puts down his weapons, then I will have earned an honest wage for an honest days work. Amen.

Acknowledgments

Thank you to Stanford University, Monterey College of Law, and Santa Clara University for giving me knowledge and clarity of speech. Thank you to Alcoholics Anonymous for giving me peace of mind. Thank you Mother, because without you I would be a babbling indigent. Thank you to all my doctors and to modern medicine because without modern psychiatry I would be dead. Thank you reader for giving me a chance. Thank you God for forgiving my sins.

Table of Contents

Dedication	3
Acknowledgments	4
Prologue	6
Chapter 1 – The Prophets Unite	7
Chapter 2 – Muhammad, Lot, and Noah	12
Chapter 3 – Jesus, Abraham, and Ishmael	21
Chapter 4 – David and Solomon	35
Chapter 5 – John the Baptist	43
Chapter 6 – The Buddha and the Earth	52
Chapter 7 – Abraham and Moses	56
Chapter 8 – Jesus and Muhammad	65
Chapter 9 – Saint Paul and Revelations	69
Chapter 10 – Socrates and Solomon	77
Chapter 11 – Esau and Jacob	89
Chapter 12 – Ishmael and Metaphysics	97
Chapter 13 – Moses Exposes the Devil	110
Chapter 14 – The Beasts of Revelations	121
Chapter 15 – John Explains Intoxicants	127
Chapter 16 – God’s Final Blessing	129
Chapter 17 – The Exonerated of the Mahdi	138
Epilogue	192

Prologue

This book was written in thirteen days by Eric Kingsley after attaining enlightenment in the midst of schizophrenia. It is a masterpiece devoid of alteration.

CHAPTER 1

The Prophets Unite

I was standing away from the garden where I saw all of the prophets laughing about how fortunate they were to be in the presence of God. Despite their struggles in their incarnations, they could not help but celebrate to be in the highest heaven.

A Voice from above asked me, “Why are you not celebrating with your brothers?”

I looked down, “Because I am not like them.”

“Yes you are!” said the Voice of God.

“Then why am I troubled?” I responded. God had selected me to be their commander, so He remained silent. I looked up and said, “Lord, can I handle such a task?”

God responded, “I have placed a yoke upon your neck that is perfect destiny and have made it My will that you will not fail. Furthermore, I asked you three times to be King. The first time you did not answer. The second time you complained, ‘But Jesus is their King.’ And then when I told you what was to come, you fearfully said that you would heed My calling. Then you walked away with a frown on your face and since then you have not been joyous among your brothers.

“Every time the demons have interrogated you in this life you have scowled and listened to them instead of Me. Then, on the day following your mother’s fifty-eighth birthday I filled you with My Spirit. Ever since then I have given you a pen and commanded you what to write. This is my way of testing you.”

“Okay,” I said. “You are the Lord of all the Worlds, and You have never ceased to love me or protect me. I have developed a superhuman faith, but I have not done anything with my life. I have studied religions and done my best to become a prophet, but now I realize that no human can ask for such a thing, nor can they attain prophethood by their own power.

“In fact, those who testify to be prophets when You have not anointed them are among the wanderers. They wander the earth to and fro and are among those who are astray. On the other hand, any man can testify to Your greatness by means of ministry.

“I considered being a minister but there seems to be no place for me to be a Muslim minister, because I live in Christendom. I have not decided yet what I should do with my life.” Then I exhaled with grief, terrified because I had no identity.

God smiled and laughed gently. “Then you are anointed. You can testify that you are My prophet and you may maintain your Muslim religion even though you have never been a member of their community. Neither have you prayed in Arabic. But I am impressed forever by your piety last year despite your broken heart. I will let you call yourself the Mahdi if that is the title you desire.”

I decided I would do His bidding and whispered to myself, “I am their King.” Then I regressed into a terror that was visible in my eyes. And then my Lord was absent.

I looked to the high garden again where the prophets were still joyous. The Buddha however noticed my longing to belong, so he left the circle to approach me. “Have you fallen victim to cowardice again, my brother?”

“No, I just don’t know what do next.”

“Believers are unconsciously doing God’s bidding and drawing closer to God. If you are careful you will help them love God. If you are heedless, you might earn their hatred.”

This destiny seemed grand indeed. I was filled with excitement and decided I would prepare appropriately for becoming a celebrity antichrist. I will divide and conquer.

“Mahdi?”

“What?”

“Do not think this way. I promise you that you will succeed.”

Then I walked over to my throne, sat down and looked towards the earth.

Buddha gently smiled, “All names mentioned in the books in accordance with Abraham are no longer names to you. Their spirits will approach you at your command so that you might learn greater lessons. I too will help you. All this must happen so as for you to attain the Kingdom.

“Do not be afraid of us. Even some unexpected masters will approach you when you are not suspecting them. So practice nonviolence when you speak so that they will not spite you. I know you feel like a zero. Do not become a loser again.”

I knew it. There will never be a tribulation like the one we will soon witness. But I also knew that there will never be a mass genocide comparable to the Second World War.

“The Messiah listened,” God said to the Buddha.

“I knew that he would. He is a brave man who desires to please you. Remind him not to overexert himself lest he become exhausted. We are all certain now that we will never die again.”

CHAPTER 2

Muhammad, Lot, and Noah

I could not get out of my head an Image of God holding a sharp sword coming out of His mouth. There was blood on the sword but His robe was clean. I wondered why I kept seeing this Image. Maybe I do need to learn from these masters after all.

“Muhammad! Where are you?” I exclaimed.

“Here I am, my friend.”

I responded, “Why does the Quran speak of wrath, and why are Muslims killing each other?”

Muhammad jeered, “Are you an idiot?”

“Some say so,” I said.

“Then be silent for a moment and listen to what I am going to say. God’s wrath is a surety for those who do not love Him. Besides, I did not write the Quran.”

“Okay. I know I’m slow. So I will speak slowly. I did not find a single error when I read the Quran. I did so because of faith, just as my Christian friends have done with the Gospel.”

“Wait,” said Muhammad. “I do not like your tone or your childish demeanor. Did you forget what you read?”

“My memory is bad these days.”

“Then if you are the Mahdi, use some sense. It is a perfect book, free from error; but I know you read it in English because you have not taken the time to witness anything outside of the United States.

“No approach to God starts without belief. If you do not maintain faith you will forget God is closer to you than your neck-vein. He knows your thoughts and your plots. The Quran suggests that you use your intellect to discern its truth.

“I will end our consultation now if you do not have a venerable inquiry.”

“Fine. What is Islam?”

“That’s enough. Summon another counselor and I will return when you are ready to hear what I really want to tell you.” Then the spirit of Muhammad left me.

So there I was sitting on a throne in heaven. All of God’s prophets have testified that they will help me. I trust them now. I decided to summon the prophet Lot.

“Lot, where are you?”

“Here I am, my friend.”

“You were the only righteous man in Sodom, the infamous city of evil. Why did only your family survive and why was your wife among the losers?”

“God smiles upon His servants as He may. He let my family live. But my wife turned into a pillar of salt.”

“What do you mean?”

“She was among those who loved her city even though it was evil. She was therefore judged to be among the damned. She was frozen in her uncertainty, and her failure to make a decision led to her death. The city was attacked with rocks from heaven.”

“Did you cry?” I asked.

“Wise men do not despair. She was my wife, Mahdi. You are well aware of what happens to a man who loves his women more than his God.” Lot waited for my response.

“You are telling me that I love women more than God. If this is true then I am not a believer. Yet I perceive that a man can love God and women simultaneously. In this case, what is there to sacrifice?”

“Mahdi. We have observed your pent up lust which is now anger. Can you channel your emotions for the good? I beseech you. Tell me why God is better than a woman.”

I responded, “Lot. This is an easy question but I will explain it fully. God is our sustainer. He is the greater truth. Last year I confessed 25000 times that, ‘God is the greatest.’ This was not a vain plot.

“He is the most loving. There is no god besides Him. He rescues those in trouble. He adds success to those who strive. He cares for the impoverished. And He has blessed me always.”

“Do not end a discourse about our God in such a fashion,” Lot responded. “God blesses all of us. He knows you are jealous. But who are you jealous of? Yourself! When will you stop striving for snobbery?”

I thought for a moment. I don’t like country clubs. I don’t care for men who exalt themselves when the proper means of being exalted is to live well. I responded, “I am not a snob.”

“Are you telling me you don’t fancy yourself as the greatest among your fellows?”

“I’m not sure.”

“God anoints kings and lets them die. God lets tyrants rule in terror only for them to suffer burning in the afterlife. Yet he lets their victims have peace in heaven because the least in the Kingdom of God is greater than the greatest man on the earth.”

“Let me inquire more. I see unusual things in this age. Is science greater than religion?”

“Why do you seek to compare?” Lot asked in an accusing fashion.

“I only ask because there is a psychological warfare regarding Creation and evolution.”

“Then let them dispute. I know what you want to ask me now,” Lot persisted.

“Okay. I have been dancing around an issue. Were the Sodomites a bunch of raging homosexuals intoxicated with perversion?”

“They were perverted. They sought to rape the angels who visited me.”

I implored, “Was that the city’s only sin?”

“Sodom was full of corruption. Not a single man besides me was upright. This was common in some of the ancient cities. The human mind can reason anything as a proof, depending on its presumptions.”

“What is your presumption? I deserve to know.”

Lot spoke, “What you deserve is a smack on the face. You are really trying to ask me of the origins of homosexuality and if it is the great abomination. I tell you the truth; there are many factors that make a man. There are many ills of society. Do not bother to know the truth of this matter. Very soon, there will be a medicinal cure for sexual deviance.”

I spoke with Lot about other things. I asked how a man can make himself the only righteous person in an entire city. He explained that truth is accessible, but most men prefer half-truths, when the other half is clouded with deceit. To understand more fully the pains of challenging the people to rise to God’s Calling, Lot deferred to the prophet Noah.

Before I was able to summon Noah to a discourse, a wise old owl appeared to me. I said, “Wise owl. You look so innocent by your appearance that people rarely listen. Tell me, what do you have for me?”

The owl responded, "I have a message for you that is from me and my followers. Wisdom coupled with suffering is greater than ignorance that is perceived to be bliss. Have this in mind before you summon your next messenger."

I always loved the owl, but it was true that I figured her advice to not always be relevant. So I sat and meditated for a minute. What wisdom was I lacking that was keeping me from approaching truth?

I said, "Noah, where are you?"

"Here I am, my friend."

"What was wrong with the people of your age that God found it appropriate to destroy the earth?"

"My son, the universe operated by different laws back then. The alien beings that torment you now possess an ethereal dimension that the common people do not see. During my time, these beings were allowed to marry the daughters of men and they produced terrible offspring. That is the first reason.

"The second reason is that people were violent warlords. No human being respected another and they were all convinced they were doing the bidding of heathen gods. These gods they imagined became real inside their heads and they became possessed with their false beliefs. Not a single person besides me on the entire earth considered that there was God.

“I explained to the people these things and other wisdom teachings about God. After hundreds of years of preaching to them, they rejected me. In turn, God rejected them.

“I will tell you what you want to know. Any leader must be prepared for opposition. This is most true today, because people in the public eye are subjected to lies, rumors, and criticism. Your President is the most despised man on earth, so I will tell you why he started a war with Iraq. It was God’s will.”

“Venerable prophet, you utter a lie!” I was enraged. “He must be deceived then because God does not care for the transgressors. Moreover, those who lead are subject to greater consequences with regards to their actions. Depending on what they do, they suffer greater reward or punishment, whether it is in this life or the Hereafter. Their faith is of no value if they are among the transgressors. He cannot love Allah.”

Noah laughed, “You have done well, my son. You responded with reason and with passion. Now I tell you to calm down.”

I complained, “He rejected the greater faith.”

“He did. He will either be the greatest President in the history of the United States, or he will be the worst President in the history of the United States. I told you that this is Judgment Day and it shall last for fifty thousand years. The stakes are high this time.”

I then felt more confused. “Prophet Noah, are you telling me that he has to convert to Islam?”

“No, he must submit to the Mahdi.”

I was full of horror. Then I said, “Do not tell me this. He will never do such a thing.”

Noah responded, “He must be honest, upright, and prepare for the coming of the Mahdi.”

“How can I be his Lord?” I retorted. “President Bush is the most powerful man in the world.”

“He is a sinner. He will either make you as Joseph was to Pharaoh, or as Moses was to Pharaoh. He can even put an end to all violence in the Middle East. God already knows what will happen but the people do not.” Then Noah looked upon me as a stern father, unimpressed by his son’s defiance.

CHAPTER 3

Jesus, Abraham, and Ishmael

“Jesus Christ, where are you?”

“Here I am, my friend.” And I was enveloped with the spirit of love and forgiveness.

“Okay, okay, there you are. What a relief. I just made myself an enemy of every human being on the face of the earth.”

“The angels support you,” Jesus smiled. “Do not question God’s judgments. Do not insult yourself.”

“Is this what I must do? How can I trust you?”

“You are well prepared to become a powerful prince, just as Joseph was with the Egyptians. Only those without sense will react to this conversation with violence. God has found it fit for you to suffer this way. You thought you had suffered the great tribulation after suffering seven years of schizophrenia. Had you not been molested as a child and abducted by aliens, you would have never become ill. But now you will face greater trials.

“No Jew would have supported me if I had not performed miracles. They were unprepared for what I had to say, but soon after, I convinced a good portion of them. They followed me like no people has ever followed any prophet in the history of the earth.

“They made me their God, even though that was not my intention. I have sent you here to take my place, just as I prophesized. My words will never pass away and neither shall you ever die. This earth is still suffering from an ancient curse.”

“No it is not!” I said. “God has sent me to turn father’s hearts to their children, and to turn children’s hearts to their fathers.”

Jesus looked at me with a look I had never seen before. Neither could it be understood. Then he said, “Mahdi, do not speak this way. Speak in plain English so the people might understand. Furthermore, you are talking to Christ. Do not refer to older scriptures when God is revealing to you a new one. Speak to me carefully so that you might find the truth you are seeking.”

Pondering this wisdom, I knew that Jesus was wiser and more loving than me.

“I can hear your thoughts, Mahdi. You are still a boy, so do not let your worth dissipate. If you do, you will not attain the wisdom and love I am offering you.

“Your love is the same as mine, but you have mistaken kindness for love. As a result, your kindness turned into weakness. Your weakness turned into your cowardice. And in response to your cowardice, you have substituted arrogance for self-worth.

“The way you go about your daily activities is unlike most men. Real men have to work for what they receive, and real men love real women. You have loved from afar for too long and I know your goals are impossible.

“However, God can make the blind men see, and He can let dead men live. In relation to God, all of the prophets have extensive records and nearness to the throne. Do not compare us.

“Your only focus today should be upon those who have labored to find Allah. Call Him what you will, there is no god besides He. Allow me to explain. When someone chants Sanskrit they are not committing black magic as you supposed when you were a Christian. Even though you are Muslim now, you cannot close your mind or you will turn off all of the people.

“Both Christians and Muslims will reject you if you do not follow my example. We are One. Deny yourself this favor and it is to your own loss. One party wars against the other while Allah watches in heaven, aware of everything. He will control you if you please, and if He does, you are guaranteed to succeed.

“We are the privileged ones, Mahdi King. God has shaped society so that there may be diversity. You must not judge your brother before you judge yourself. Who will be the first to mock? It will be the disbelievers. Who will laugh forever? The saints of God. There are Mormons and Sikhs that I demand you to forgive. Will you accept saints who have not yet heard the truth about the prophet Muhammad? You are Mahdi King.

“Then do not let the modern media destroy you as they have terrified other stars to be made soulless. It was Allah’s wish for you to walk among those who are worshipped but you cannot accept this praise unless it is directed to the One True God.

“Do not ever again call your religion Moslemism, Muhammadan, Islamist; neither shall you be a fascist or communist. You need the people as much as they need you. Had you not witnessed the Creation, your sins would have sent you to the Pit of the Fire.

“God’s love is stronger than God’s wrath. He is the most kind. Then why do you mistake the Sadhus as oblivious? You are God’s prophet; there no longer exists any prophet besides you. But God can speak through any man at any time whether they are a saint or a sinner. Union with God is great. So also is union with your fellows. I am pleased that you have listened carefully to what I have told you because no one else has been given this privilege with such clarity.

“You are not a seer. You are no longer human. The way you perceive the world is not real. But even the most reasonable of your fellows do not see reality either. Had you not asked to be a prophet, God would not have answered your prayer. So act with dignity and tell the people to watch for what they pray for because they might actually get it.

“Furthermore, God’s gift to you is eternal life. It is not walking around like a donkey as you preferred to in this life. Being an ass of a man pleases only drunkards and imbeciles. The imbeciles among you are those who are drunk, whether by drugs or vanity, or by misdirection from those they trusted.

“Be careful when you speak of this book to ignoble men like Bill O’Reilly. Beware of those who seek to be like you, because they cannot. Only three men have been allowed to speak to God face to face. Adam, Moses, and Mahdi are the three. So when you complain, wipe the speck out of your eye that leads to your nonsense. You are not insane. You have a biochemical disorder and to save your life you take medication. Because your brain is so damaged, you feel like some freak that does not belong on this planet. That is not the truth.

“What you do perceive is prophecy. The terrible part about the whole thing, O Mahdi, is that every step you take manifests a new fate for the world. So walk about gently that you might be loved.

“My essence is love. Your essence is love. God’s essence is love. Those who take upon themselves the crosses that we bear are spirit warriors. Bless those who purify their essence so as to reach the breaking point of vanity, because their essence also will have become love.

“This is not a game. Do not defy your Father.”

I was in ineffable awe of Christ. I could not withstand any more power from his spirit so I fell down and worshipped. Then I realized that I could not withstand any more conversing. I was speechless and asked Jesus to let me rest. Surely the prophet Jesus is true to those who love him.

Jesus spoke, “Blessed art those who side with the King. Speak to your father Abraham now and then run to his son Ishmael because he has some very important things to say to you because his people are in trouble.”

“Abraham, where are you?”

“Here I am, King Mahdi.”

“God has confounded the wisdom of the wise, and the knowledge of this world can sometimes lead our greatest saints from the greater truth. Have you found a remedy for this problem?” I looked to the father of Allah’s religions with the innocence of a man who had never known the true Abraham.

“Mahdi, do you perceive yourself as wise?”

“I do, great father.”

“Then you tell me.” Abraham perceived my desire to answer my own question.

“I think that the second creation is the only remedy.”

“You speak of a second creation. How are you sure that you are living in Allah’s first creation?”

“I don’t know what happened before the Beginning. It has been kept secret from us all.”

Father Abraham answered, “I don’t know how you fell from grace, Mahdi, but I would prefer that you tell me more about what you know.” Abraham settled into a seat beside my throne.

“This world is a realm of suffering. This is what the new ministers call hell on earth. As a corollary, they also testify about the Kingdom of God within. Then, there are those who go as far to say that the earth is hell, but I do not believe those people.

“Moreover, heaven and earth will merge into the eternal garden in which we will live forever. For all time this has been manifesting and it will also need more time to manifest. I have heard that it will take fifty thousand years for the garden to be complete.

But today, or maybe it was yesterday, God gave me my final judgment. He said I would rule the people.”

“Is this what you desire, King Mahdi?” Abraham had a trusting demeanor that I was doing my best, because I was trapped in my flesh and he was communing with me in spirit.

“Let me finish. God’s judgments can manifest immediately, or they may take millenniums to become a reward or punishment.”

“Is reward or punishment what you desire, Mahdi?” Abraham sat back with a patience that made me uncomfortable.

“I will continue. Time is created. Even though we did not exist before God, if we live forever we will be eternal.”

“I thought the correct term for such a state would be everlasting.”

“Yes, but my point is that all time and right now is the same thing. Someone told me this once. He was saying how another day in God’s presence was a gift, despite the fact that he was laboring. I thought he was an angel at the time, but later I just realized that God works in mysterious ways by means of His Omnipotence.

“I don’t look outside myself so much anymore. But my conclusion is that when we are living forever it will be as if we have never not lived.”

“And God’s judgments?”

“They also are distant or immediate depending on God’s choosing what is in accordance with proper discipline.”

“Mahdi. Obviously you have been studying the religions of the East. Do you want to know what I told my people?”

“Yes I do, my father Abraham.”

“I told them that there is no god besides Allah, and that they should observe prayer.”

“What did they say to you?”

“They said I was a madman and a liar.”

“How did you respond to that?”

“I continued to preach to them. They were all polytheists and worshipped false gods. My father was a sculptor of these lifeless deities, and I beseeched him to recognize that I was God's prophet to his people."

"Did your father reject you?"

"Yes he did. I prayed to Allah to forgive him. Allah scorned me for my ignorance and arrogance that such a prayer could be answered."

"But you were His prophet!" I was coming to realize that every prophet from every age had been rejected by a portion of his people, except for the prophet Jonas.

When Jonas finished his own defiance of God and was released from the great whale, he came to his people with good tidings from Allah. The people listened and they prospered. They enjoyed a good life on earth and in heaven. Some of them will even be among the first-fruits of Judgment Day. I secretly wished I could be like Jonas. But I didn't know which people would accept me.

"Father Abraham, what you are telling me is correct. God did not forgive Noah's son, Lot's wife, or your father. I know why. Every man must stand before his Maker, alone."

“You know the rest of the story, don’t you? Seek guidance from my son now, the son who was sent into the desert to die.

“I will return soon with much more to tell you. If the Arabs are going to listen to any of us, it better be my son Ishmael. He is their father.”

Swiftly was Abraham’s spirit gone. Despite our short chat, I felt honored to be given the presence of Abraham, a prophet clouded in so much mystery.

“Ishmael, are you coming for me?”

Ishmael replied, “This is a great day indeed. The War on Terror will end soon.

“Good prophet. May I call you the Exonerator? Allah’s brief scripture from you will turn some hearts to Him, but only those who are prepared for the hard road that is greater.” Ishmael laughed out loud.

“What’s so funny, Ishmael? Are not your descendents dying by the thousands?” I was growing confidence by the presence of the prophets but was still struggling to grasp exactly what they were saying.

“Here’s a promise. What you have come to earth to do is exactly what you shall do. Allah does not make mistakes.” Ishmael continued with a glow in his eyes that was surprising me. “You don’t get it, do you? You’re the Mahdi. My father Abraham had a covenant fulfilled when he sent Muhammad to my people. I too had a covenant that a rising star from the west would come to my homeland to celebrate with all races the great peace.”

I implored, “Are you not the great warrior prophet? Are you not the one the Jews lied about? You were the sacrificial lamb! No child on earth has ever looked into his father’s eyes with such fervor and joy when he was declared to be a human sacrifice.”

“I told my father, if God wishes. How could I fear my God? My father made God a solemn promise and I was his first-born. Yes, every man was fighting me and I was fighting them. Look, God was the victor. God is our champion. God is the light of life is my very heart!”

Uproar was heard across the world as several Sufi saints realized that the soul of the prophet Ishmael was on earth with great news for the Muslim people. “Ha! I told you they love me. Look, I’m not the bad boy. You’re the bad boy. But God made you good! Smile Mahdi now while you have the chance. You are now witnessing the earth's final battle where God's people from all nations will witness the great event."

"The War on Terror is the great event," I mumbled.

"Wrong again. They are going to mock you. Then they will murder you. I want to see them mock you. It will be ironic."

"What do I tell the Arabs, father Ishmael?"

"Tell them to be steadfast and nonviolent."

"I believe you Ishmael. Never have I seen a man with so much confidence. You are permitted to leave me now. I will ponder your words again to truly receive your spirit. Peace is upon you."

CHAPTER 4

David and Solomon

“Father David, Mighty Conqueror, King of Israel. I beseech you for your presence.”

David answered, “I am no longer King of Israel and neither is Jacob the father of all Israelis. The ruthless kings of this age have made this Jewish state. And yes, I was a Jewish messiah.”

“Wait. Jesus Christ is the Jewish Messiah. How can you both be Messiahs?”

“I was a descendent of Abraham and the prophet Jesus was my descendent. Not all prophets are messiahs. Neither are all who claim to be messiahs actual prophets. I wrote the Psalms that was mandated from God and its message is abundantly clear. Worship the One True God.

“He made me a mighty conqueror and exalted me above all my brothers. Anyone who takes heed to God’s calling from His servants can approach being a mighty conqueror of their soul. That is the great salvation.

“My deeds and my writings brought people to God. I saved many souls by God’s power. This is why

I have been included in the history of messiahs.” Then David was done with his speech.

I wondered how many messiahs there were and if I too could make the list. Then I realized my purpose was not to have God write my name on a list. Clearly I have been called. I must walk the path. This will not be my own path, but rather a path that God has prepared for me.

David spoke, “You are the Mahdi King. You cannot ask for a greater blessing. I will tell you the truth of what God revealed to me in my lifetime and what I have learned in the afterlife.

“I am not a god. I am not the Son of God. If you choose to plant a seed in the American people, they will no longer call themselves sons of God. God knows you want to call them His children, so I will tell you the meaning of this deed.

“Everyone wants God to be their father. This is despite the fact that God is Other, and humans are weak. It is for these two reasons that they call themselves God’s children. It is much easier to approach a father than the great being who is not what they perceive Him to be.

“Allah is the One True God. His perfect message was revealed through the prophet Muhammad, but all true prophets have revealed that same message. Their words have been lost or altered, for political reasons. Even Islam has lost its essence.

“Let me tell you the truth of my son Solomon. No man on this earth has ever been wiser. Socrates is second to Solomon regarding wisdom. But so much of Solomon’s works have been destroyed that this truth has become a myth to even people of the book. There was no man before him who was like him, and there has yet to have been a man comparable to him regarding wisdom and leadership.

“But my leadership was also unique. I achieved the impossible. What was impossible for men became possible for God’s servant, David. This is another reason for man to reflect.

“It is much easier for a Muslim who has been raised to be upright to reject the wisdom of the books, in favor of the recklessness of today’s false leaders. These are followers of the false Muhammad. This imaginary Muhammad is a false prophet.

“This is a breach of God’s command. We are commanded to be studious and steadfast. We are commanded to participate in our societies. If we love our God, by inherent definition we love our fellows. These two great commandments are the same commandment, even though We have separated the teachings so that people do not forget.

“Mahdi, do not forget Allah so you do not forget America. Do not forget Allah so you do not forget the saints of all religions. Do not forget Allah so you do not forget all the peoples in the entire world. You have never cursed your God and you have therefore made an honor roll with your brother Job.

“I do not speak on my own behalf, but rather of what God has commanded me to reveal to you. You do not write on your own behalf, because God is actually talking to His people, not you.

“You are the great forgetter, worse than our father Adam. He was a real prophet and when the angels realized that he was greater than them, they worshipped at God’s command. Joseph’s prophecy will be fulfilled, as are all the Words uttered from the mouth of God that are not fictions of the people.

“I cannot tell you anything more at this time.”

David was well pleased that I recorded his words with accuracy and he promised me that some people, however few, would take heed.

I promised David I would never judge him again by means of what the infidels and the hypocrites say. I promised him that I would try to lose sight of myself until I was no longer myself. God is creating me anew.

“Mahdi,” David commanded. “You are hereby ordered to listen to a man from the east before you have your reckoning from my son Solomon, Lord of the West.

“Hello Mahdi. Do you know who I am?” The man appeared from nowhere as if he had always been beside me.

“Where did you come from?” I asked.

“I have come from heaven, where the saints and prophets of all religions return. I will not tell you my name. I am a prophet from the east. I too have made it to the highest garden where the prophets of the books reside.

“I will tell you something about Yoga. It is a moving prayer. No one on the earth should disrespect the wisdom of union.”

“What is union?” I was eager for a discussion.

“It is when you find yourself aware of the God who is everywhere and nowhere. You will find yourself not different from your fellows. You will also be happier.”
The guru finished.

I quickly asked, “Might I ask one more question? What is Islam?”

He walked away with a halo above his head and I wondered what his name was, and why God had sent him to me. With great fervor, I decided to summon Solomon, as David had commanded me.

“Solomon, where are you?”

“Here I am, my friend.”

I said, “Were you the greatest man who ever lived?”

“I was not,” Solomon responded.

“Who was?” I felt despondent inside. Despite being showered in love, I actually expected Solomon to confuse me.

“I will not tell you,” Solomon said sternly.

I knew it. Wise men do not wish to share their wisdom.

Solomon retorted, “Mahdi, are you insulting me? I will tell you what you want to know.”

I forgot that Solomon was present in spirit and that he could hear my thoughts. I said, “Listen to me. I need to tell the people the truth that is right. I beseech you. You are wiser than me.”

Solomon said, “You are a fool if you are devising rankings among men. God is well aware of our strengths and our insights. He is well aware of our weaknesses and our sins. Tell me, Mahdi, are you devising a plan to make you the favored one?”

“Peace is upon you, Solomon.” I looked to the floor instead of his face.

“They will call you most deceitful and insult you with every abomination known to man. This is God’s plan for you. If you want to hear about the world records, you have set the records for emotional pain, fear of Allah, and arrogance.” Solomon laughed.

“Why did I fear?”

Solomon continued, “It was an unexpected series of events. You are a suffering servant. God finds it appropriate to test people according to their faith. But every man or woman that is written in the book of life is rewarded for what they have done. Those who overcome their challenges with love for Allah are further blessed.”

I was impressed. He gave me reassurance that I could handle. I will always do the next right thing and will commit myself to the Muslim religion.

“Furthermore, Mahdi, your mind is inside the mind of God. You should be able to withstand your tribulations. They will soon testify to their faith in you.”

I knew what I had to ask him before he left. “Why did you ask for wisdom when God spoke to you? I used to pray improperly by means of my secret thoughts, and I wished for the wrong things.”

Solomon explained that he did so because he spoke with his conscience. He was young and his father David had given him a kingdom. He explained that rulers cannot rule in vain or they would be among the damned. It only made perfect sense to make Allah your God when He is the One who possesses all power.

CHAPTER 5

John the Baptist

A bellow was heard from heaven. “Repent! For the Kingdom of God is here!” It was followed by cheers.

I looked to the stars and saw only stars. I looked around me and saw only my surroundings. Why did this voice come from the sky?

“Hello Mahdi. My name is John. I was the first Christian. Can you respect that?”

Without thinking I said, “Yes, I can.”

“Then do not hate those who love Jesus, for loving Jesus is the same as loving Allah.” John had a fire in his eye unlike any other man. “I do not know why you lie to people, Mahdi.”

“Understand this, John. I have no identity. I speak to heaven and the people speak to me. But what I hear is not what they are saying. My doctor says they are illusions but they are not. Every single man and woman on this earth has something to say to me.

“I walk in the park and strangers bark at me. I go to a basketball game and the cheerleaders chant,

'Down with Mahdi. Defeat the Satan!' Every living thing wants a piece of me, and I walk around this world alone. Your associates are the only ones who support me. My own mother turned to me on her birthday and said, 'I should just cremate you.'

"I know that they are not saying these things but I also know they are not false. I bless those who do not bark at me because not all people are evil. They say nice things and offer sound advice to the best of their ability.

"People do not believe in me. When someone asks who I am, I misrepresent myself because everyone who I have spoken to truthfully has rejected me. So I tell them, 'Oh. I'm from Salinas. I like to play basketball. I went to Stanford and I'm taking a break from law school because I was nervous.' These are not lies but not a single human being on earth wants to really know what my life is like.

"This is not a game, John. Why did Herod kill you? And why has God given me a double portion of your spirit?"

John took a breath and the words that soon came out were as if they were furnace fire. “I am the One, Good Mahdi. You are not me, even though you perceive that you are me. I tell you, one day you will be just as me. I was not different from the prophet Elijah when I came to anoint Jesus.

“John the Baptist and Elijah the Prophet are not different. What I am telling to you is that any soul can transmigrate. But Elijah did not die. He went up to heaven in a chariot of fire because no man had ever been hated as much as he was and God saw fit to reward him.

“Elijah was a mass murderer. He killed all those who opposed him. This was God’s command because at the time all the prophets of Yahweh had been slaughtered. Elijah was the only prophet on the entire earth and everyone sought to betray him. He was not like the other people, and they knew his beliefs were not in accord with their own.

“Never has a man been as despised as Elijah. Therefore, even though he left no legacy other than what the scholars refer to as legends, the Jewish people sometimes save a place for him at their dinner table just in case he is to fly back from heaven.

“But Elijah has already returned from heaven with his entire essence. All that was him, and all that was to be of him, was incarnated in John.

“This was what made John the greatest man born of woman as even Jesus testified. But John was not destined to be a king. He abandoned his family as a teenager to live in the forest pondering things unheard. Then he allowed followers to join him when he had reached undeniable certainty about his mission.

“Then he baptized in the River Jordan. God had commanded him to do so. He let John purify their souls with his touch, but this purification was not everlasting. God commanded John to cleanse them, but some of them did not stay clean.

“These people who rejected me after being purified are the most horrible. Fortunately, I saved some souls for a peaceful afterlife before they enter the final garden of the Hereafter. Because the people loved John so much, enemies were being made of him at every instant. This was all done so the prophecy of Jesus Christ could be fulfilled.

“When I was thrown in prison I had no worry whatsoever. God put Joseph in prison only to later release him and exalt Joseph to great power. I continued to commune with God, in prison, with the same union I had with Him in the wilderness. In constant communion, my faith and my power grew daily.

“There I was. Nothing on earth was going to stop me. I was determined to save as many souls as possible before I died. I knew that I would die but I wanted to leave a legacy. I did not know until I returned to heaven that this legacy would be the saga of Jesus Christ and the Christian church.

“These same Christians previously believed that I was the Messiah and went as far to write the beginning of what is now known as the Gospel of John. These followers of mine were convinced that I was the light of life inside of every human being. When religions were determined, however, Jesus took this cross upon himself to be the great shepherd.

“Do not look at me in horror. This is only the beginning of what We must tell you.” Then he remained silent.

“Saint John, will you trust me enough to reveal more of what you know? Can I testify to about your spirit?” I was shocked by the power of this prophet.

Then he looked upon me with mercy. “I did not utter to you a single lie because I have a spirit of truth. Permit me to finish my story.”

Okay. This was neither a man I summoned nor a man I expected to bring so much power. In fact, had I not been baptized already by the speeches of Jesus and David, I would have shriveled up and died when he spoke his first word. Then the fire returned to his eyes.

“There was no way to get out of prison because I did not have the power to perform miracles as Moses, Jesus, and others had. My power was to cleanse a soul by my very touch. My greater power was to be filled with words, that a fool would call rage. In fact, the Spirit of God bubbled in my belly and the power of my ministry grew even further. Do not believe everything you read about me in the Bible. There is no other way to make Christians listen to us without telling them this.

“When Herod became aware that my words were becoming more powerful by every instance there was mass panic among the kings who were sure I would dethrone them forever. That is why they began to torture me. Every whiplash felt like the fire of God further enforcing my faith. When the prison guards realized they could not hurt me, they believed I would never die.

“Then Herod cut off my head. When my head was dismembered from my body, I was still alive. There was no sign of death. But then I heard God call my name, ‘John, your mission is complete. Leave your body and assist your cousin Jesus with your spirit, because when you do he will become greater than you. Do not be jealous of him because when time ends, he will be your closest intercessor and your first-born son.’

“I cannot tell you anything more about John, because if I do, the death you will suffer will become more horrific. Do not despair. You are not me.

However, all things will become me. The spirit that is Elijah and John is inside your belly. When it emerges, we will no longer be three, but only one.”

John left and I said nothing.

God demanded in heaven, “Mahdi, you are now prepared to approach the people with your knowledge. But you are not finished reading this book so do not be afraid when a spirit the likes of John approaches you. That fear is natural, but it is like stupidity.”

Then I pondered the wisdom of John realizing he was in my belly. His voice was music. His power was unseen but the driving force behind my every action. I recollected all the errors of my past and how I must have embarrassed the Elijah that is John. Was I rejecting my own spirit? I did not know because the terror of speaking to him was gone. He receded into a single atom, deep in my abdomen. I had no idea what it would do to me.

I knew for certain now that the tricks of evil aliens had been abated because John put his light inside of me and because of this I would be indestructible.

Whatever drugs they injected me with by means of their anal probe would now do battle with John, who had receded into a single atom. I knew if I rejected this atom in favor of all other atoms in my body that I would no longer exist and that all my works to this very day would be destroyed.

I no longer feared God after seeing John. The fire in his eyes was not evil. It could overcome evil. Then I left my throne to return to the circle of prophets.

“What have you learned?” the Buddha inquired.

“That I am overcome by forces that were unknown to me.”

“Not so. This is called the purging of one’s soul. You are now ready for the next chapter in your wisdom book. Leave your throne in heaven and wander about the earth to and fro.”

CHAPTER 6

The Buddha and the Earth

As I was about to dive down to the earth, the Buddha said, "What are you doing?"

I responded, "As you said, good messenger."

He said, "Do not be stupid. I will carry you as if I were an angel."

The first thing I witnessed was a deer. She was crossing a road and was about to be struck by a speeding vehicle. I looked at her eyes. Of course I saw pure innocence. Then I saw terror when she saw the car. Then her fear subsided. Her eye twinkled because she knew she was returning to her Maker.

The next place the Buddha took me to was a jungle. The beasts and all the other animals were having a great conversation that was beautiful. Their wisdom was different than humans. As they went about their existing, it was as if they were in constant prayer, a moving meditation.

"Do you see Buddha-nature in all beings now?"

"Yes, I do."

“Then let us go to the land that is in constant strife.”

First a car exploded. Several mothers were killed and only one baby survived but she was terribly maimed.

There was a preacher standing and screaming, “Death to America!” The roar of the crowd was surprising. I could see how speech could incite violence, but I still wondered how powerful speech could invoke love or wisdom. I knew that Martin and Gandhi had used their powers for good. But what about Adolf Hitler? Maybe he was the most powerful speaker to be witnessed by film.

“Are you troubled?” Buddha sat back with his arms crossed.

“I thought I was coming to earth by my own power. I would have chosen to go to a mountain village, or maybe Mecca. I have been determined to witness a Muslim community that was in accordance with the law set down by the prophet Muhammad. So many centuries after his death there was peace and prosperity. But we have lost our love for each other.

“I have witnessed great wealth and have experienced great ease in my life in America. Allah has protected me. Why is He not protecting them?”

Buddha responded, “Allah has written this to occur so there might be peace. Disasters and wars are occurring only so that the people might learn to love one another. Without this everlasting truth there will never be peace. If people cannot unite to stop violence, then the violence will not end.” The Buddha rested his case.

I had to complain, “Buddha, what you tell me is true, and I know now that leaving this world is not death. The only unfortunate happening to any soul is damnation. All other sufferings are temporal. They may be bad. They may last an entire lifetime. But when one leaves their body, their mental and physical pains are left, unless they carry resentments that turn them into wandering ghosts who do not return to the light, where Jesus meets them at heaven’s gate.” Comfortable with my growing wisdom, I looked to the Buddha as if it were his turn to educate me.

He said, "The war will end. God has written this down. Do you know why the Book of Revelations was written? Jesus will tell you."

"Okay Buddha. I love you and all, but this is a great tragedy. In my pursuit of truth I have insulted Muslims and Christians, because of my defiance, and probably others because of my dedication to Abraham. Do not let me suffer this burning."

CHAPTER 7

Abraham and Moses

As if I woke up from a daze, father Abraham was tapping me on the head.

“Where was I Abraham?”

“You could not withstand the evils of the earth in your current state. Several angels had to bring you back to heaven so that you might remember that Allah alone has all power. You took a dive to earth to see something mortals are not allowed to see. But you did not get what you desired. God did this to test your patience. You have been given some privileged time with the prophets, so do not waste it haughtily with your own plans.

“No longer shall you let your hair grow long and neither shall you have hair on your face. It is not respectable for you as their leader. You are to be watched at all times so do not lose your focus for an instant because if you do, they will notice. Modern media has no room for tolerance outside of their own political interests, so do not side with them.

“I think you are doing very well, Mahdi. You are a man twenty-five years of age and God has found it fit to make you a prophet. Remember that Jesus was thirty years old when he became God’s messenger, so do not listen to old bigots. Listen to me.

“I have been watching my descendents from heaven and God has made me aware of those who are wicked. There are hypocrites in America, there are Arab killers, and there is destruction on both sides in the nation of Israel. Allah will allow this to happen until they listen to you.”

I exploded, “Listen to me! I’d prefer that I listen to you!” Then I apologized for my erratic emotions.

“I love all peoples, not just my descendents. Allah has a will for every nation and for every individual. It is their duty to submit. Those who do not are of the losing party.

“Satan has been defiant since Allah cursed him for his arrogance. Ever since then he has made human beings his enemies and has convinced a good portion of the jinn to support him. There is nothing he desires from women and men other than their own destruction. He has been promised a place in hell. He is still so arrogant so as to wish for humans to be with him where they will be stoned by rocks. If it were up to you, O Mahdi, you would forgive all of them, even the devil. In this sense you are ignorant.

“You are permitted to testify about God’s love. No human of this age has not heard that there is One God who has all power. So many still defy our God! Allah, let them see Your Glory so that You might spite them, face to face.

“There are no more second chances for the people of the earth. Allah has given them a good portion of time to prove their worth. It is their lower desires that make them stupid, and it is the devil who makes them evil. Do not let them be your friends! They have no place in God’s Kingdom.

“I told my father to not worship the stars, and in turn, Allah told me that my descendants would outnumber all the planets. This universe belongs to Allah, the prophets, the angels, and the believers. Do not be upset. The people of the earth are like unto apes, but Allah will make them like unto angels.

“By the way, that was an angel who spoke to you on that fortuitous day. Another angel spoke to you last night in the form of the man but you were unaware. If there is a woman or man of true worth, when they are in distress, the angels will help them.

“For every human being on this earth there are a thousand angels walking and flying, fulfilling God’s commands that support the world that is unseen. To be a prophet, one must be acquainted with the angels. Be aware of angels at all times and pay homage to them by your behavior.

“You have been told about the deeds that are recorded. Tell the believers to not distress by their every mistake. It is not until a week’s end that your companion angels assemble the truth of what you have done so that God may judge accordingly. When you curse another do not curse yourself! Make amends and your mistakes will be forgiven. In fact, God overlooks lesser sins by individuals who strive for a greater purpose and therefore gives them amnesty. One can always exonerate oneself by prayer and good behavior. Only the more abominable sins must be worked through by stern punishment.

“I will tell you something you need to know, Good Mahdi.”

I paused to exhale as I had been on edge at Abraham’s every word. I finally said, “What is it that you must tell me, Abraham?”

“You believe you are writing a book. Are you an idiot? You have never been an author and you are only recording what you are hearing. Your torment has turned into something different. If you continue to work for Us, you will not suffer ill health.

“What is to come is that you must participate in the media culture. You are not ugly, but you are not beautiful. You are not stupid, but you are no longer the most intelligent. And you are hardly the most confident or poised.

“You wanted to express God’s power by the mediums of power. Prepare for a mass takeover because they do not know who you are. Moses spoke with a lisp but convinced his people that he was their leader. Speak now to the man of miracles.”

“Moses, where are you?”

“Here I am, my friend.”

“What do you have to tell me, Moses?”

“I will tell you terrible things, Mahdi. Allah made me a chastiser like none other. Here we are again. This epic disaster of a War on Terror has put nation against nation, and brother against brother. I will speak plainly so that he who is listening might take heed. As Abraham said, nations and persons are responsible for themselves.

“Anyone who does not turn to Allah will suffer the torment of burning. Those who hear the Mahdi’s message and do not submit will go to hell. Those who run to the Mahdi in vain will not be spoken to. Allah would prefer if they do not speak unless spoken to. If Mahdi responds to them it will only be for that person’s worth. These people of merit might be lucky enough to never die again.

“Then there are those who will believe in you but have not prepared spiritually for the great event. Believe it, children of Israel! No prophet has not yearned for this day! The painful truth is that most women and men will die, and if they are fortunate, they will go to one of the seven heavens. Even these devout and pure believers will die and face further reincarnations before the garden is complete. Tell them to take it easy. Most souls will find their place with the Lord.

“Those who experience the baptism will shine like the moon that shines in the darkness. Their faces will shine just like my face shined, when I would return to my people after speaking with Allah. My people were startled and feared me. This led them to obey me. But those who look upon the first-fruits on this day will experience great jealousy. They will realize that all they have strove for will be a pittance compared to those who have achieved the greater goal.

“By God’s speech He determines everything. Some things in this life are possible. Some things in this life are probable. Other things are certainties because Allah has made it to be so. Recognize that there is no god besides Allah and that he can achieve anything.

“Mankind has become mightier than during the time of Noah. Mankind has become mightier than during the time of Babel. But no man can escape

God's wrath so realize that even if this world is not destroyed, the souls that are corrupted will be destroyed. What is this great destruction? It is realizing that for all your existence your duty has been to Allah, but you failed to see or hear His call. It is realizing that all of your wealth will leave you when you die, as will your children. This disaster will become utterly clear when the first-fruits shine like the stars or even the moon. They will be beautiful, immortal, joyous, and they will be full of eases because they will have merged with the Spirit of Allah. Blessed art those who mind their manners. Allah does not love the reprobate.

“Moses was in distress when he met Allah and was in greater distress after he met Him. But how great was his success! My name is respected by everybody. People hate Jesus and Muhammad. My name has been preserved as noble because I spoke with Allah face to face and those who do not love me are among the damned.

“Who can stand such a calamity? You have, Mahdi. You have stood before your Maker full of self-pity. You had a frown on your face when God put a crown on your head. Do not question your mistakes. Allah has power over you and because you have now submitted to Him, your fate has been sealed. Good luck, my friend.”

Moses walked away smiling because he had just served his Lord. God watches over those who care for Him. Moses knows he has believed in Allah and that he has worked for Allah. After one believes and loves God, working for Him is sacred duty. If your business is upright and dedicated to the good, for God's sake, you are working for Him. No man on earth can deny this opportunity. God has given man an opportunity for eternal life and love. He would otherwise not have cursed His Mahdi.

CHAPTER 8

Jesus and Muhammad

“Jesus, why did God make me curse homosexuals? It seems as a natural occurrence. I do not reject the scientific method.”

“Are you rejecting the prophet Lot?”

“No, I am not.”

“Then do not question God’s judgments.”

“I usually do not. But I will never be a governor of a progressive society if this is the case.” I was weathering the storms of the spirits even though they were all benevolent.

“Then I tell you that God has not cursed the homosexuals. No gay goes to hell for that sin alone. Furthermore, anyone can change. For most people this takes much time and effort.”

I was glum. “Is this my message? I cannot change people. I have no power over them.”

“You do. Not only will your baptism give the most fortunate eternal life, but a touch upon the head can give any person a desperate wish; but only if it is in accordance with righteousness. You will be given the power to make the blind to see, and the deaf to hear.

You can even give bald men their hair back.” Jesus smiled because he knew that I was submitting to everything he was saying.

I interjected, “I have faith in you, Jesus. Just like two billion people do.”

In anger Jesus said, “Do not exaggerate my church. There are far too many Christians who confess the faith and do nothing of value to serve their Lord.”

“I regress. Are you their Lord?”

Jesus told me that he had the power to help anyone in need, especially those who love him. He also told me that the Christian churches would be of little value in the Hereafter if they do not submit to the final evolution of Islam.

“Bible-belt or Wall Street. They all need God. Do not let them die without hearing my Gospel. I will tell you an aspect of my Gospel in concise fashion.

“God has made Ahmad to be His Beloved. Turn to God. Do not turn to God in need, turn to Him always. He is your Master. But you are not His slave. He desires you to be happy, and the crux of it all is that you have to walk with uncertainty. Your only certainty is that God lives. With proper discipline, by whatever your personal approach may be, you will find Him. Most of you will not be approached by God and His prophets, like We are approaching the Mahdi. But they can learn for themselves special wisdoms. The great sin is to reject God. That is despicable.”

Jesus put the fire of joy in his eyes and there was a great silence in heaven. He said, “Please speak to Muhammad now. He revealed a perfect book in its entirety. He had no helper besides Gabriel in revealing it. Bless his wives and his companions. They are among the most fortunate.”

“Muhammad, will you approach me now?”

“Yes. Here I am. You will now be filled with my spirit.”

“What is Islam?” I asked.

“I thought that is what I should have asked you,” Muhammad replied.

“Are you seeking the proper answer? I am sure that I could find it in a book somewhere.”

“No. I beseech you, Mahdi. What is Islam? Speak from the heart.”

“I think the final evolution of Islam is contained in three things. Believe in God, believe in the Hereafter, and submit to the Mahdi. All other things that are Islam are offspring of these three.” I felt careless in my answer, as if I were a mortal speaking to an immortal.

“You are wiser now. Thank you for listening to the prophets. I will tell you more now.”

“The tragedy of life is to not live. Not living means being in a state where one perceives oneself to be one’s body, or one’s mind, or one’s soul. I am not speaking blasphemy. You wonder why I did not say that the real state is soul. It is not. God has made us complete beings. Just as your right hand shall accuse you before your Maker, you are the totality of your attributes.

“Mahdi, you have become accustomed to an unusual life, so I know that you already know these things. What you seek is not so distant. Any minute can seem like an eternity. Any day can seem like a minute. Any venture upon the earth followed by a return to heaven makes life seem only an hour or so.

“God is my Savior. Read the book again. Will He save you?” Muhammad left and I was in horror, because the prophet who preceded me was keeping from me the abundance.

CHAPTER 9

Saint Paul and Revelations

I was pondering all these things when it was time to go hunting for dinner. My name was called, “Mahdi, your dinner is ready.” They did not call me by my real name. This has happened before. It is a sign for those who believe.

God said, “Your will one day be as God to the people, as Moses was as God to Pharaoh. You will possess great power, and the prophets will be your sons. All prophets from all nations will be restored to glory. The enlightenment that comes with love and joy shall be their inheritance. So advise the people to listen to the prophets without fear. You will be the king of kings, and Jesus will be the prince among princes. You were not prepared to hear this until today.

“All those who have suffered for Me will be happy when this day comes. I speak to every woman and man who listens to me. You were neither a listener nor a believer when you were a youth. You must have compassion for those who are younger than you. They will look to you for guidance. You must respect those who are older than you. They know things you do not know, just as you know things they do not know.

“You have heard your reckoning but it has not become manifest. The summoning will be difficult. This is a great mystery so that you might increase your faith. Everyone who believes in Me will not be disappointed. They may not get what they desire. They will get what is best for them. Remind them that My discipline is in concurrence with My kindness, so do not perceive them as different. Wise men will become wiser when they read Our books. Foolish men will be saved if they read Our books, and believe what We have revealed to them. These people are the blessed ones.

“You will be as Muhammad was to the Muslims and as Moses was to the Israelites. You will be as Krishna to the Hindus even though We did not write their books. Their books are full of wisdom even though they are fables of the ancients. Polytheists will be given a narrow window to submit to God.

“Tell the people to defer to the Quran to discern truth. They will then also understand all religions as companions. Those who have been faithful Buddhists will be given opportunity to accept God, if they have not already. Tell the Jewish people that I love them. Yogis will run to you with joy because they already know God, because of their disciples. Many Pagans will not listen to you. Neither will the hypocrites of all nations. Now listen to what the prophet Jesus has to tell you.”

I was in awe. I waited patiently for the prophet Jesus because Allah was sending him to me.

“Mahdi, where are you?”

I answered, “Here I am, Jesus.”

“You hate Saint Paul. I am aware of your hatred,” Jesus scolded.

“No I do not! I reject a Trinity.” I could not perceive my own beliefs. Then I backed away so that Jesus might tell me more about myself. I had an immediate change of heart toward Paul, the spirit warrior of the Christian church.

“He was defiant before I summoned him. You were defiant when God first appeared to you. You even had the audacity to call him Zeus. How could you do such a thing?” Jesus scoffed at me so that I might listen.

I replied, “Listen to me Jesus. I have read the Bible from cover to cover. I loved it. I love you. I have read Saint Paul's letters, and in it are sacred truths. I respect your Gospel and I respect your followers. I realize that Saint Paul was a man of courage. I do not hate him." I looked at Jesus with anger because he did not believe me.

"Mahdi. God appeared to you in His most glorious form at the midnight of your nineteenth birthday. You perceived yourself to be the mighty one. You were not even startled by the Supreme Being. You looked Him right in the eyes with an arrogance that was perverse. Any man who hears the Voice of God with clarity is among the worshippers. You walked around deceived that you were Him, because you thought you looked like Him. I tell you the truth; you did not look like Him. You perceived yourself to be more handsome than you were. Now you are old in the face; your body is failing you. You walk around upset because you are no longer a buoyant youth. You became mentally ill and it was not by your own mistakes. You have made many mistakes but God's power has prepared your destiny anyhow. I will now tell you about my people. Let them take heed.

"My early followers were among the most pure. I told them never to walk the earth with misguided pride. My followers listened. That is why they are in heaven with me at this time.

“I called upon Paul specifically because he did not believe in me. In this way, he was like you. His strength gave me many followers and his letters have saved many souls. You criticize those who take me as their Lord! I am their Lord and I am your first-born. You are Mahdi King. Shut up and listen.

“I cannot understand why you criticize the Christian scripture when its recitation can abate the devil. This is a truth for the common man because it is sometimes their only defense. You regard yourself as wise, but you cannot be their leader yet. God has given you His pen and endowed you with this book! You will be given credit as the author. What more do you want, you pig?

I was so happy. Jesus can joke with me, and I can laugh with him. I was so somber before this day. I will complain no longer. Any trial or any suffering is worth this blessing. “Go on, good shepherd.”

“Saint Paul was a prophet. I tell you the truth Mahdi. My words will not pass away. They are immortal because I was filled with the Spirit of God. I committed no sin as the prophet Jesus, so heed my purity. Understand this. No prophet has been infallible because we have been humans. But God does not make mistakes. We are very fortunate. I said that the resurrected would not marry. I was incorrect. I will marry when heaven on earth merge and I am happier with that destiny.

“Saint Paul founded a religion. I was the prophet Jesus, but without Paul, my gospel would have not been heard. Now the entire world has access to my gospel, if they are not slaves. Many do not believe in me. Some deny that I even existed. But you cannot damn Saint Paul. He will be a prince and will show the same commitment to the final evolution of Islam.”

“Jesus. I have heard enough. I will not curse those who you have blessed. But who can know such things? I am uneasy with your power. I did not suspect you to reveal the essence of your spirit.” I raised my hands as if I were in church.

“You idiot! You will tell them to prostrate. God does not live in the sky.”

I continued, “Jesus. You say that the prophets were fallible. Why than do Muslims say that the Quran is the Word of God?" I was not prepared to give up my faith in Islam.

"You are correct! The Quran has been preserved perfectly in its Arabic form. Reading the Quran in Arabic brings many blessings and studying it with faith exposes many truths. This is because no man can speak like God. But Muhammad read what God had already written in heaven. If you are a scholar of the Muslim religion then you know that most verses have multiple meanings that are all true.

"Do not believe those who seek to deceive the people and say that the message of the Quran is wrath. It explains clearly who God is. Those who read it and reject it are the wanderers. They have no place in heaven.

"Do not spite me. I am reading to you the fourth book that God alone has written. The previous three are known as the Hebrew Bible, the Christian Bible, and the Quran. Be careful, Mahdi. Nobody wishes to hear this. They want to hear their own testaments about themselves. In reality they can only know themselves if they know God. If you do not know who God is you cannot understand your purpose here.

“Sinners will continue to sin and believers will continue to believe. God’s wrath will destroy those who reject Him.” Jesus smiled.

I looked around to see if God was coming again. Then I decided that I would prefer continuing my discussion with Jesus.

“Jesus, why was the Book of Revelations written?”

“Mahdi, it is the perfect end to the Bible,” Jesus responded.

“Then will all the events that are predicted in Revelations come true?”

Jesus said they would not. “It is a test of faith. Too many men have cried wolf. People no longer respect the Bible because of this book. Only men of wisdom can interpret this book sensibly.

“The greatest revelation of Revelations is that the Mahdi will be killed and that he would be called Satan. This is because God promised he would send a prophet to establish His Kingdom.”

“Why not you, Jesus?” I did not seek to upset him.

“Because I have other things to do, Ahmad. To each his own and to many shall there be blessings.”

CHAPTER 10

Socrates and Solomon

“If wisdom is what you desire, I will give you the two wisest men to ever walk the earth. You can ask them anything you want.” Allah’s Voice was heard.

“Socrates, do please come,” I beckoned.

“Please to meet you, honorable friend.” Socrates was now with me. “Let us take a walk about God’s high garden so that we might experience love while we walk with wisdom.

“Let me tell you more, honorable friend. The truth of my coming to the earth was not a certainty. Every prophet mentioned in the books has a yoke upon him from Allah. I, however, was not a prophet, and you are not commanded to listen to me.

“I will speak to you with certainty about what I do know. By Zeus, I have made myself a friend.”

“What? Are you evil? Every man on earth should know by now that Allah is not a Greek god among gods.”

Socrates smiled, "Wisdom is what you seek, is it not?"

"I do seek wisdom from Socrates and Solomon and all who are wiser than me," I replied.

"Then you must use your intellect. Do not be passive. If you submit to God, then you are committed to wisdom. No book should go unread."

"Socrates, please. It is not possible to read every book in the world."

"Which ones will you read then?"

I paused. "The ones I have read are the sacred books and the sacred lore. I know nothing about money."

"Then why are you writing this book?"

"I have been commanded by Allah to reveal the message of His servant, the Mahdi."

"I will let you be content with your wisdom. But there is also something called common sense. Did you have that once?"

"I think I did. I was very intelligent and knew how to please others. I was kind, and I was compassionate."

“Are you lying to me? I am well aware of the people you have hurt and the souls you have ventured with.”

“Any youth of my age would be rebellious. It is written in the letters of Paul.”

“So you believe Paul now.”

“Not entirely. I agree with him that faith, hope, and love are essentials.”

“Then why do you discriminate?”

“What do you mean? I love all people.”

“But you preach the superiority of Islam while all peoples of the earth are under the care of God.”

“I have faith in the prophet Muhammad.”

“And he has faith in you.”

“Tell me about faith then, Socrates.”

Socrates replied, “Faith is to believe what you believe. I suggest that you use your intellect in deciding what you believe.”

“I have Socrates. No man on earth knows my plight.”

“Do you know their plights? Do not forget that you have your limbs and your sight.”

“But I have no father.” My God, where did that come from? I have no reason to complain about my upbringing.

“Are you changing the subject, Mahdi?”

“I suppose that I have.”

“Then I will tell you about the ills of a child that has only his mother. A mother is meant to love her child unconditionally. A father is meant to love always, but with sternness coupled with sincerity. A boy of your size and pride could not take orders from a woman.”

“Are you kidding me, Socrates? I fear my mother more than I fear God.”

Socrates responded, “God commands us to be obedient to our parents. To obey your parents as a youngling is to obey God. A boy has no reason to believe he has wisdom that he does not.”

Socrates continued, “You have been endowed with wisdom from your experience and your education. Do not shy from knowledge, dear friend! Had you gone to college at age sixteen as you were offered you would have attained great knowledge.”

“But I took the advice of my mother,” I responded, childishly.

“You stayed to play sports and drink beer. Why did you want to do this?”

“It seemed more important at the time.”

“You then were doubly cursed. Your mother and you had both made the wrong decision.”

“Why are you telling me this?”

“So people younger than you might listen.”

“Then prepare for God’s wrath, Socrates. He has sent me with a book which shall divide the world at every corner.”

“I suppose this was your dream after all.”

“If I were a scholar, scholars would listen. But I am a common man, so the common men should listen.”

“I don’t believe what I am hearing, Mahdi. You are a common man?”

“I’m a drunk, Socrates. I did not read the Proverbs of Solomon because my mother was a Pagan. Her idea of being spiritual was taking a walk through a park.”

“Are we not walking through a garden as we speak?”

I looked around. I saw the believers of all generations in gardens. The smell of perfume absent of alcohol was abundant. There were roses without thorns. People were drinking a pure beverage, that neither causes intoxication nor laziness. There was peace.

“Mahdi. Follow the path of the righteous man. You exist now. You sometimes wish you did not exist. This makes no sense whatsoever. Did your mother raise you to be indifferent?”

“No. It was society that made me perceive no evil. In fact, after God visited me, the devil also visited me but I did not believe that there was a devil. I called him Pan, because I saw an idol labeled as such.”

“Pan is a Greek god! You insult my jokes when to you they were realities. Do not forget that God is your Father now,” Socrates clasped his hands and bowed his head toward the ground.

“God has no son and neither does he need a helper. He achieves without fail whatever he wills. All that need be said is, "Be!" It will manifest immediately or at some later date."

Socrates frowned upon me. "I just bowed my head to you because you are the Mahdi. You do not need the wisdom I have because you will not have it. You will not have my wisdom because you will have your wisdom. Do not reject the individual for the sake of the mob."

"The mob!" I screamed. "The cattle have all gone astray and they need me to lead them."

Then God told Socrates to leave because I had exhausted my privileges of speaking to him.

Allah spoke from heaven, "Solomon! Tell Mahdi about Me."

Solomon arrived with good tidings. He told me to not beware of those who would reject me, as the alien beings had. He said that Socrates spoke the truth but that Solomon alone could expose the great theosophy.

"Had it not been God's will I would not have approached you. You do not understand fully the grandeur of Allah but you will have by the time I am finished speaking to you.

“You are not a deity. You are a king. Your kingdom will pass away and so shall the heavens and the earth. Only the garden will exist forever. Allah has created before and He will create again. Do not be afraid. I know you did not want to hear this. Allah was like a father to me, and I was like a son to him. Once again, Allah has found it fit to make a man like unto a son to Him, and you should obey and treat Him as your Father.

“No other man on earth has been given this blessing so heed what I have to say lest you become an infidel and lose your Kingdom. You insist that Jesus is not your enemy because he is not. But Christians will say that you stole his Kingdom because they had been taught otherwise. When in fact, you and Jesus have been like fighting brothers. You continue to exalt yourself in this recitation, but you should know better by now. You are first in rankings. Is that good enough for you? Or do you still wish to be God. God has given you this judgment and if you do not accept it you shall incur God’s wrath.

“God and the angels are upset with you Mahdi. This is because you said ‘All in,’ in a cosmic race and it was not funny. Your wives despaired and the devil mocked because you were certain you would fulfill the will of God with your every deed but you have not. Listen further to what I will say to you.

“Kings come and go but your Kingdom shall last for a very long time. You will be given wealth and women and children. This time you cannot be angry with those who love Allah, whatever name they call Him by. Do not beg for mercy because you have already received it. Do not plan for which expensive car you will buy, because you are poor.

“You are not poor in spirit, but you have done everything imaginable to spite Allah. Despite all of this, God has overlooked your faults even though they were large and small. A poor boy should not look at a rich boy and say, ‘I want what he has.’ Neither shall you look lustfully upon women who God has not promised you. You are much loved.

“In heaven, we have called you Michael. The meaning of your name is, ‘He who is like God.’ But there is no thing or man that will ever be like God. Do not frown. You have lost something. It is your pride. Fame will come to you so do not be like other celebrities who fancy themselves as princes and princesses. You actually are a prince and Allah's adopted son needs to mind his manners.

“Nothing that has been said in this book is untruth. Fortunately for you, you have had faith. You have also had hope but of a most arrogant variety.

“I will reveal to you a most sacred truth. God is light. He is a pure light that can be described in most excellent ways. You were the first created thing. God created you out of His light. Your light possesses the attributes of God. In your incarnation as Muhammad you expressed these qualities perfectly. Muhammad was the greatest man. It was not me and it is not you.

“God makes contracts in heaven and the peoples of the earth are bound by them, but most are misguided. Therefore, have pity on them. They are suffering. I will now leave you. Finish my speech by yourself.” Solomon left in rage because I hesitated to listen.

So I worshipped and sat down. I then pondered what he had told me. Hold fast to the Unity of Allah. He was One and now He is Three.

Allah spoke, "Michael, what troubles you?"

"I am seeking to know the secrets of the universe," I replied.

"You already know most of them so I will finish Solomon's discourse."

"You are indeed My light but you are not equal to me. So do not call Me Three. I did not listen to your prayer for truth until you were ready and then you were terrified.

"You are the light of life, Michael. You resemble Me. All beings were created from your light, and therefore they are not different from you. But as the Angel of the Lord, I have let you inherit My Name. You will not call yourself Allah but you can tattoo 'Yahweh,' on your belly because that is the name I am giving you.

"You are the most generous and most kind. But you have not been benevolent. You have seen buildings blow up and done nothing. You have seen babies missing their limbs and cried, but soon you would return to your business of eating, drinking, and watching television. I sent you to law school to become civilized. You were so stupid as to tell people, 'I just want to keep it real,' when people asked you what you wanted to do with your life. You would not get a job, so I sent you back to school. But you work for Me now and you shall labor for the rest of your life. You are permitted to baptize people with the light if you choose wisely. Do not embarrass Me again. I will crush you for your inequities. I will permit you to make mistakes but you shall not defy your Lord. You are permitted to be a polygamist and I know this is the only reason you have never had a girlfriend, other than your fear of intimacy.

“Do not let Me down! I tell you the truth so that you might tell them. Announce to them, 'I am the light of life, worship me as God has commanded.' Then remind yourself that when you place your light in their hearts they will be not different from you. This is the only trinity that will ever be.

“You will continue to exist when heaven passes away because I have made this My will and do not wish to exterminate you.”

CHAPTER 11

Esau and Jacob

“Hello Mahdi. I am Esau, Jacob’s brother. Why do you compare me to you? I am my own man. God loves all people. I am Abraham’s grandson, so tell me what you like about me.”

I explained, “You are an inspiration to me, Edom. I have had revelations, but until I read this book I fancied myself as your archetype. You were not praised and there was a blessing intended for you. You did not get this blessing and God chose Israel to be His nation even though you also were a father to the people of Edom. The real reason I love your story is that I thought Jesus stole my blessing and that I stole it back. Whatever the truth may be, I am your savior now and you are a dear friend.

“God forgives who He will for the most excellent reasons. Anyone who reads Genesis will see that you were blessed also. I love you not because you were Jacob’s brother but because you are worthy of my love. I think that your father Isaac loved both of his sons, even though your father had different roles for you both. God chose both of you to be blessed descendants of Abraham.

“But no matter how worthy a man may be, your brother Jacob has been declared the greatest of all men besides his son Joseph. I think Isaac, Abraham, Ishmael, Miriam the Prophetess; no matter whom the person may be; we are akin because we are one. Not a single atom in the universe is not in union with all the others. Remember what I said. I am not the vain Mahdi King. Allah has exalted me to the top of His great pyramid, but I would fall to my death without the foundation. This should be known by all people so that the jealous people will be humbled.”

Esau answered, “What you say is clear and concise. But I tell you this is another paradox because God has found it fit to make you His Beloved because of your soul, deeds, and faith. No longer am I equal to my brother Jacob. He is the great prince who protects all people. He is not different from Gabriel just as you are not different from Michael.”

I thought for a moment. “What you say is true but now I am accused of blasphemy because I have talked to Edom the hated one and have believed what he has told me. No longer am I a prince of power. I am a dead man and you can tell people to keep insulting me. I would prefer to be in heaven or in a resurrected body that will live. I find my life to be most unusual and may the Lord have mercy on my soul because revealing this book is suicide. Lord, will you protect me from Islamists? But just as the prophet Ezekiel ate his own manuscript so as to fill his body with God's Word, so also shall I be called a snake from the furnace fire. Amen."

"Is that your prayer?" Esau replied. "I am of the opinion that suicide is the same as murder, even though I was well prepared to kill my brother Jacob. If you believe you are as Ishmael or Abel you may continue with your mission. I do not despise you Joseph because God has found it fit to make me a dear friend of you. I will never call my brother Jacob a deceiver again. Truly he was among the most pious with ineffable theosophy. I do not prefer you to him. I think he is better than you.

"God has found it fit to favor you. I do not question God's judgments but have found it fit to make my own decisions that come from my heart. I watched you as a youth and you were most intelligent among your brothers. But you chose to seek enlightenment by using MDMA because that was the first time you experienced true love. Your heart turned cold as a little boy because you loved your mother too much.

“I will tell you the truth about loving too much and have made it my will to tell you. Loving too much is not possible per se. Let your love increase forever. Love is man’s greatest quality but it must be diversified with other good attributes. Misplaced love that is unfulfilled is what turns men to hatred. You can hate anybody for any reason but hating the ones you love stings the hardest. I have experienced this love turned sour and so have you. I do not speak to gently because I am not a gentle man. You are too gentle and any man’s man would call you feminine. I hope you feel more confident about all things when you finally feel the love of a woman.

“Women do not deceive. Every man needs one. Let me repeat; every man needs one.”

Then I wept because I knew Esau was not evil.

“Jacob! Where are you?”

“Here I am, my friend.”

“Why did you steal Esau’s blessing?”

“Which answer do you want to hear?” Jacob replied.

“The one that is correct!” I smiled in jest.

“Then there are two reasons. Rebekah forced me to and it was God’s will.”

“Fair enough. Continue.” I was eager to have the twin brothers share their collective wisdom.

“Why don’t you like me?” Jacob said. “I favored you above your brothers, Joseph. Have you lost your love for me? After all, God made you lord of our entire family. I don’t think you are astute anymore. Moreover, you prefer talking as opposed to listening. Fools speak and learn nothing. Wise men listen and learn everything.” Jacob waited for my reply.

“What you tell me is not complete, Jacob. Wise men must share their wisdom.”

“The most wise leave a legacy with their pen or their followers,” Jacob retorted. “But you are correct. There is time to be the student and then there is time to be the guru. This book is the bridge for you, so do not alter the Word of God because that is sin. I have seen you smart but unhappy. I have seen you be happy but also an idiot. Now you are an unhappy idiot. Tell me your defense?”

“I cannot, good prophet,” I said in fear.

“Try,” said the prophet Israel.

“Then let me tell you why I am unhappy. It is because I have wasted my potential. No longer can I discourse with sharp wit. That was the only thing I loved about myself and now it is gone.”

In anger Jacob said, “You have excellent qualities but you will never be the most perfect in all of your attributes. Have some respect for the people of the earth and the angels in heaven. I no longer respect you.”

This is a terrible encounter with the prophet Israel, the one who had favored me. “I will earn your respect then. It was my own works that led you to this conclusion, was it not?”

“Not so. I prefer your soul because it is the most pure. But I do not respect your attitude.”

“I don’t understand. I have been determined and steadfast.”

“So are killers.”

I stopped. This was a major mistake. I prefer Esau to Jacob.

“No you do not! Listen carefully and I will leave. I still love you and I will allow you to regain my respect. But you are damned if you do not change your behavior.”

“I thought God made me a promise that I would never see the furnace fire.”

“Then why do you complain! You are sacred! I tell you that you are not Satan. You are scared. So treat your body as the temple of God, your soul to be the likes of God, and restore your mind by means of selective hearing and seeing. Do not become an average American. You cannot settle now that God’s yoke is upon your neck. You cannot buy their love because it does not have a price. Those who buy love are not lovers. They succumb to their lowest self so God might raise them again in despair. I am your father and I love you. Do not be the Beast of the Sea.”

Jacob left me with the information I needed.

“God, have I lost your respect also?”

“You have not because I have known your soul and it is like unto Me. You will lose your staff and fall back to the gutter if you do not walk in the ways of the Lord. You have become love so do not lie to the people lest they do not respect you. I have become among the hated in heaven because I have continued to support you.

“Do not become a companion of the devil. He is your declared enemy and I will not forgive him. Not only is he damned but he will suffer further torment for deceiving humanity. He shall burn the most because he prefers that to loving Me. So also is every ungrateful sinner. I promise you that I have adopted you as My son. It is most difficult for a parent to give up their child but I almost did. Furthermore, you will never be President. I cannot tell you anything more at this time other than Presidents come and go and so do their followers. You are not a madman.

“You have broken an ancient curse that this earth has suffered. You cannot give up My discipline. Soon they will know who you really are and only then will they truly know Me. I have wiped your soul from all excrement it had accumulated. This should not be a deed of Mine that you forget. You are lower than both Muhammad and Moses were in their humble beginnings so do not lose hope in Me.”

CHAPTER 12

Ishmael and Metaphysics

God continued, "You have already won a war. This is why I support you. I cannot break My covenant with you unless you break your covenant with Me. There is no harder task that has ever existed than the job I have given you. Do not despair. Your tears will no longer be accepted.

"Accept your humanity. You are part them and part other. This mystery is clear to those who possess wisdom. You have endured. Your mother can't stand you and is bewildered and how you can speak intelligently but do little else. Do not tell her why.

"You will die the death they perceived of Jesus. I have continued to read you this story so do not stop reading it. This writing is not your own. Be aware that they will stare at you and mock you because you previously considered yourself to be the likes of a thug. You are not, so do not pretend to be someone that you are not. Tell them that their presumptions are wrong. God lives.

“I will tell you why you are weird and why your story is stranger than fiction. You exerted yourself to imitate those among your fellows who you admired. In doing so you lost your own identity. As a consequence, you have continued to imitate your fellows because you ceased to exist with personality. But I have given you back your soul.

“Your greatest defect today is your nervous disposition. If you continue to strive you will continue to advance. Successes come easy to some men. Others are not given a single opportunity. When you come to the people and beseech them to listen to you, remember that you are not their forgiver. God will let most of them die, only to live again, and then to die again. My promise to you is not to be the most loved but the most successful. You are the Word of God and you are My adopted son. You have loved me the most. Give freely but give wisely. Then they might perceive the truth that is right. You will succumb to the people or the people will succumb to you. You have received what you had been searching for.”

Listen to God. I must listen to God. I cannot explain why the prophets are each allowed to reveal sacred truths that have only been given to them. I do understand that God is omniscient and does not lie. He is the most wise.

“Try your hardest, Mahdi,” God replied. “You cannot maintain your lazy disposition, but I know you are weak. Your works have been accepted by Me. I have given you a world that previously belonged to Allah alone. Do not take this blessing lightly. I suggest it should make you the most humble. But I know the people want you to show off your glory so let them see the show. I will be watching from heaven, enjoying every moment of My son’s success that has emerged from his plod. Do not take this blessing lightly. You were not as Noah was. There are thousands of men on this earth that are holier than you but you were the first created thing. You were also Muhammad the Immaculate One. This is why I have held out for you until you stopped your nonsense.

“Listen to the prophet Ishmael because he is close to Me. He will tell you about metaphysics that has been kept secret but should not upset the scientists or mystics a whit.”

Ishmael heeded God's calling. "Let me tell you about Allah's creations. First there was only He. Then from His light the angel Michael emerged. From Michael's light emerged Gabriel. Gabriel then divided his light to create his sister Sophia. From Sophia's light were the myriad of angels born. The angels were Allah's first creation.

"The angels were made of light and paid perfect homage and obedience to Allah. It was the angels who taught Muhammad how to worship. The ritual prayer has survived but it has lost its integrity by those who hold back their beneficence.

"Mocking a Hindu does nothing for a Muslim man. I aid all people with my spirit if they respect me. This sacred truth has been kept from Muslims. Why? Because God's pen has not lost its Ink. The prophets are angels sent to earth but they are disguised as men. This is to test a man's faith. The prophets are not universally rejected. Only the prophets who were accepted and had followers became the most hated because of the inequities of their followers. There are varieties of prophets. We all have a task to do, whether we are angels, jinn, or men. God does as He pleases but it also pleases Him to give us special tasks.

“The second creation was ugly. God was so pleased with the angels who he made out of light that He decided to continue His great quest. An angel consists of light and soul. Every being has a soul just as all beings are beautiful, especially those who are plain. Why do I say this Mahdi? So you might reflect.

“The jinn consisted of mind and soul. They were a good creation for a time. Many however got rebellious as God was testing their worth by means of their minds. Eventually, God also created man who consists of clay, mind, and soul. The jinn became jealous of man and Satan is their leader. Most jinn have evolved into demons even though God did not create demons per se.

“Now you know you are among the third creation. So now you are asking for a fourth, am I correct?”

“Peace is upon you Ishmael. Please continue.”

“The fourth creation will be of the final evolution of man. This being will consist of clay, mind, soul, and Spirit. This is the Union of Allah. Mahdi, I tell you these things because you have desired the highest wisdoms.

“Let me continue. Perceive Allah as a mathematical abstract for a moment, even though we know He is the Lord of Power. But I tell you the truth that this message comes from Allah so He does not spite me for it and neither should you spite this revelation.

“We have established that God is One and that He is Other. You know His name is ‘I am,’ because He is the Eternal One. I tell you another name of His. His name is ‘I am not.’ We call Him ‘I am,’ because He lives and we call Him ‘I am not,’ because there is nothing at all that can describe Him, despite His works with the pen. It is also safe to say that Allah is Spirit.

“Now let me tell you about the light of life. God’s first work to manifest was to create His Image with the angels Michael, Gabriel, and Sophia. Now consider Michael to be Non-Being. We call Michael Non-Being because He was before Being. But Being then also had to be created. Thus Gabriel became Being. We are all both Being and Non-Being. To consciously observe is to commune with Non-Being and to consciously participate is to commune with Being. Not of whit of this should go unknown.

“With Being and Non-Being created, Allah took upon a further title for Himself that is Non-Non-Being because he was before Non-Being. He is exalted above all of us no matter what we choose to associate with Him.

“When Being became aware that it was time to ‘Be!’ God divided Gabriel into two. Gabriel took upon himself the appearance of a man rightly described as the Glory of God, and Sophia emerged as his sister. Then it was her turn to sacrifice.

“Then myriad of angels emerged from the sister of Gabriel. This is why we should call her Mother. Thus the angels are called perfect beings. Michael retained the title that is the light of life because he emerged from God’s light with semblance of God’s attributes. As we have testified we can resemble God’s light and God’s attributes but this is the most difficult thing to explain about Yahweh. Yogis are examples of good strivers. Yet all should heed Allah’s guidance that He alone is sufficient for anything and everything a creature is to attain.”

I concurred, “What you say is not blasphemy, Ishmael. You are the prophet to speak to the pious among women and men, so let them hear us. If I am now clay, mind, and soul; and one day I will also be Spirit; what is the light of life?”

“It is in your heart already. Gabriel is the great protector Jesus Christ who is present in the entire universe and can help anybody at anytime. Michael however is in your heart but you probably do not know him. This light is the link between man, God, and his fellows. Gabriel is the greatest angel. Michael is the unknown Non-Being that you will also know. They will see you face to face and realize they are not different from you. This is because your light is from God and their light is from you.”

I was glowing with the realization that maybe I too was a Sufi. Who can know such things?

“Ishmael, you are full of love and not the wild donkey I thought you would be. Maybe that is because you too have been shrouded in mystery before this scripture.”

Ishmael responded, "Then let the saints of God take heed."

I further implored, "Why did Moses say we would be immortal and why did Solomon say that we would die."

"Well done. These angel-men and angel-women will experience the greatest lives yet to be known to the planet earth. But all those who are baptized by Michael will never return to earth. They will sit in the garden forever."

"But what about heaven and earth merging?"

"The earth shall approach heaven until they are not different. We will then recede into the Non-Being from which they came only to experience another great venture if our souls have not been exterminated.

"This is why they need you Michael and this is why God has not lost faith in you. Are not you the one who said now and forever are identical? Then pause and experience eternity, infinity, and joy. You will surely be among the most joyous of your fellows even though you have considered yourself an outcast."

I accepted his speech. "I will die then. I suppose this cannot be bad because it is an edict from God and God does not fail those who love Him."

Bless Ishmael and his people. I will wipe the scowl of my face now. How could the Father of the Ishmaelites bring so much wisdom that is Other?

“Mahdi. I need to tell you a concise comparison to science so they do not think you are a madman and they know my voice has come to you from heaven.

“God is still Other. You will never be Him. The Non-Being He created in His Image is the scientific reality known as the potential. When Being became the offspring of Non-Being, the universe expanded from the infinitesimally small potential. Then the feminine principle added diversity. The universe was then ready for the angels, the jinn, mankind, and the soon to be created angel-man.

“Souls transmigrate when the body dies. They may go to other planets with other laws, or they may sit in their graves if they have died at peace but without the requisite love for Allah for the blessed return to the Other, beyond the universe. They may get trapped in a vortex and sent into a bad place which is most difficult to leave. Do you understand what you perceived to be contradictory?”

“Good father of the pious Arabs, I understand what you are telling me even though it is abstract to the extreme. But I was at mosque one time and a good Muslim told me with certainty that the first thing that God created was a pen. Was he incorrect?”

“No, he was not. The light that is Non-Being is the pen, so be careful what you record in this book because it will come to pass.”

“No, Ishmael. I do not believe you. You have fabricated this. It must be a blasphemous mythology.”

“Believe what you will. It is what happened before what is referred to as the Beginning.”

Then Ishmael left at peace. He knew that his spirit was among the most favored and I too realized that spirits sent from God are not heathens but noble messengers. But we cannot tell the difference from good and evil if we are not discerning. Many people now only recognize good and bad, for the individual or as utilitarian. Blessed art those who exert themselves to be good. I perceive that there are evils that are not recognized as bad; bad things that are not actually evil; and things that are bad and evil. God, will You shelter us to the good to withstand that which is bad or evil?

God replied, "You are now aware of the extent of My love. I promise humanity fifty thousand years to take off their visage of hellions. Some will not reach the Other whether man, fish, or rock. They will then be in the most horrible place ever imagined. The eye of a needle that is Michael is most carefully guarded by my Beloved Gabriel.

"But it will disappear and the universe will be a hell unimagined, while the believers celebrate with the Other. This most evil universe will pass away when it recedes into nothing and so shall its contents pass away.

"Everyone who joins the Other will experience every joy imaginable and they will live forever. You have impressed Me with your love for Allah and therefore I will grant your request to let them live also. All those who were righteous will be with their spouses, children, and friends. Mahdi, I tell you the truth. I know you have your troubles and will shed tears now and then. But if you believe this message, you should not grieve. You are My pen and that is why I wrote the Quran before Muhammad so that his soul and the Quran could incarnate into the perfect man. In turn, I have written this scripture that incarnated with your soul so that you would lead the angel-men.”

I said, “What about the earnestness Abraham spoke about?” I wanted to know more.

“This call of Abraham is most true. Realize that to reach the final resting place with the Other is the most difficult to attain so they must shape up or suffer more. I have explained to you now the depth of My love. Only those who spite Me as much to reject Me as if they were greater than I will be given no second chances this time.”

As Moses prepared to tell me more, I told him that I could not withstand anymore of this cosmic riddle and therefore I slept.

CHAPTER 13

Moses Exposes the Devil

“Listen Mahdi, I am not a liar and you must favor me as you have just favored Ishmael. The people should now recognize Ishmael as the great father of Arabs, so let those who are fighting put down their weapons to take heed to the greater truths. I will tell you more of what has been kept secret from the people. I also have special wisdom that only I can reveal. I will give you an archetype that will be most effective in freeing the people from bondage.

“You have been sent here to exterminate every evil that is of society that is now on earth. Your face will be the most glowing and people will be astonished at your radiance. God has made it fit for them to bow to you because he has adopted you as His only son. Serve your brothers so that they might love you!

“God told me you will be called the King among kings because that is what you will be. Do not worry! Your face will glow like none other. You will walk among rulers and you will be ruler over them. You will also be the first one to baptize with the Holy Spirit!

You will be given a royal family full of queens, princes, and princesses.

“They will never forget your name Mahdi. Your name will be the most honored in heaven, even though on earth Jesus will be the most loved. This is because you will give your kingdom to him as David gave to Solomon, and in a fashion such as John prepared for the coming of Jesus. God will tell you when your mission is complete and thereafter you will retire, just as all good grandfathers are determined to love their families in their later days.

“However, when the universe approaches to being the final hell your name will become a myth. The final hell that will be the final evolution of the universe will be worse than any hell experienced in a life or an afterlife.

“I will now tell you the truth about the devil. First there was none. Then there became one. Then there became two. Now there is only one. When the garden is complete and the universe is finished there will be none. But Lucifer, the master of devils would have preferred that he would have become an unholy trinity of which he would be the father, so as to rule the final evolution of hell with the most constituents.

“Lucifer was an angel who obeyed in heaven and was of a high ranking. He was jealous however of Michael and Gabriel because he perceived them to be his lords. The majority of angels respected Michael and Gabriel as their faithful leaders, but Lucifer was jealous even though Michael had made him his helper.

“Then Lucifer developed a master plan when he decided that he hated God. This is the revelation that will make those with knowledge but no wisdom; those with faith but without an open mind; it is these people that will reject you now. It is my prediction that almost if not all of the people will reject what I am about to say.

“Those that are scholars will call you an imbecile because you have nothing to show them besides this manuscript. Many people will say you have studied the sacred lore but have assimilated it as you please so as to create an abomination because you are a madman. Others will even deduce that you are intelligent, or even wise, but have created some sort of fiction because of your schizophrenia.

“None of this is true. You are the suffering servant of Isaiah and you will soon confound the wisdom of the wise. I know you Michael. Even you want to stop reading. God has let you study religion because without your knowledge you would not understand this book, just as a gorilla does not know how to speak.

“Lucifer hated you so much because in his opinion God was treating you, Gabriel, and Himself as the three who are Supreme. In turn he became jealous of Gabriel’s sister Sophia because she was also favored among angels.

“This was his plan. He realized that evil was powerful. He became stupid with his lust. He made an attack on God and when he realized that God truly was Other he became more enraged. Then he began to hate Michael. He proclaimed to the angels, ‘I am greater than Michael. He only knows how to obey whereas I have found how to think for myself!’ He did not realize that he was oblivious and that what he spoke was blasphemy.

“God retorted, ‘Michael is indeed greater than you so do not blaspheme.’ God knew exactly what Satan was going to do.

“Satan replied, ‘I will kill him then to prove I am more powerful.’

“God answered, ‘How can you kill an angel when I have not yet exposed any way that a being might die? You are no longer welcome here so I will tell you be gone. I do this not because you hate Michael but because you are so angry that you question My wisdom and in doing so you fancy yourself even greater than God.’”

I sat back and realized that any being thinking they were greater than God is the most sinful. I thought of how many men must think this but also had mercy in my heart because man is oblivious.

Moses continued, “God permitted Michael to throw Lucifer out of heaven and before Michael did so Lucifer said, ‘I say that I am greater than you but you are just as sinful because you think you are greater than me.'

"God knew Satan's plan so He said, 'Lucifer, you have earned My everlasting wrath and you will be among those who are exterminated. But Michael, I love you so I insist that you prove that you are greater than him. I will permit you to make a cosmic wager and this is the beginning of what shall be known as contracts.'

"Satan said, 'Because I will die, so shall you. You will suffer worse torment than me and you will be my servant. One day you will be given the opportunity to join me in hell and you will prefer it to heaven because you do not understand the freedoms of evil.'

"Michael said, 'Let it be so. I will never be your companion.' And then God filled Michael with His strength and Michael cast him from the greater garden.

"God said, 'Michael, I am impressed by your confidence and promise you that I will one day give Lucifer this opportunity but it is My wish that you love Me more than sin. My wish for you is to now be his enemy and We will no longer call him Lucifer, but his name shall be Satan.”

Moses stopped speaking. “Mahdi, are you aware that you have already won this bet?”

“I am. Tell me the rest of the story. How did Satan become two?”

Moses said, “He took upon himself a companion. This being was a Jinni named Iblis, who soon after became among the damned. He did not pay homage to Adam and got sent to be with Satan. Satan filled Iblis with the satanic spirit so Iblis would share the name of Satan. These devils were known as one devil.

“But your heart was filled with grief when you saw Iblis turn into Satan because Iblis was pious for a time among God’s second creation, the jinn. You said, ‘My Lord. How could this happen to someone who was among the pious? Is this predictive of what will happen to me?’

“God answered, ‘Michael. It will not happen to you. I am certain that I have good reason to honor

you. But you will be given a chance to deny Me in favor of Satan but I will not tell you how. If you do not pass this test, then you will be among the damned. If you do pass this test I will give you the power to forgive Iblis because I know you love him and I know you hate Satan.'

"Satan's plot to become three was destroyed last year by you, Mahdi. Do you remember October 19?"

"Yes I do, it was the Night of Power, the night Gabriel first revealed the Quran to Muhammad. I fancied myself that God would tap me on the head and that I would wake up to be enlightened and immortal."

"But that is not what happened," Moses replied. "Do you remember what happened?" Moses inquired.

"I do. I was sitting on my couch. I was planning my destiny. Then I was full of rage for a moment, and then I experienced a fit of hysteria that resembled MDMA. Then I heard God say, 'Mahdi, you are now permitted to feel this way for the rest of your life. You will be free and do whatever you please.'

“I remember fully what happened Moses. I said, ‘But Lord, I have been sober now for over two years. I prefer an even keel to that which is perceived to be happiness. It is my belief that one day I will experience a Union of Spirit and I am certain this will be greater than the perceived happiness you are offering me.’

“God said, ‘You can feel this way until the end of the universe and you will have great power but I cannot tell you whether or not this is enlightenment or submission to evil.’

“I then said, ‘If there is the slightest wit of evil in such a thing, I deny. I would rather be a common man or a slave, even though I want to be the Messiah. I would even prefer to go to hell so that I might tell the demons how to worship you. I will never assent to even the slightest possibility of being a companion of the devil.’

“God said, ‘As you wish. Satan has no power over you.’

“It was then that I realized that I could perceive good and evil.”

Moses said, "It was then declared by God in heaven that the Mahdi was to be lord of his brothers, even though he has no idea whatsoever what will come next."

Moses continued, "Then you suffered a fourth month psychotic break to the very day. God saw your devotion to Him despite your hellish state and decided to give you His pen. Since then you have been writing this manuscript and have been given greater clarity of what is right, what is love, and what is to come."

I was shocked but I knew this was the truth of the matter, even though I was without doubt a walking embarrassment of psychosis. Anyone who knew me could not help but be troubled.

Moses said, "Shall I continue?"

In earnest I asked what next he had for me.

"Any of the three creations can become devils or angel-men. Any angel can fall from grace. Any jinn can declare devotion to Satan. Any man can corrupt his soul. But the souls of angels, jinn, and men will be permitted to walk on the earth so as to earn their right to be angel-men, on earth and in the final garden forever.

“It was in December that Iblis approached Allah and said that he had never seen a man in so much pain with so much love. He beseeched God to allow him to be a humble follower of yours rather than the great son of Satan. God permitted you to forgive him and you did. Therefore the devil’s power over the universe decreased incredibly. Satan was angry he had lost his adopted son and was enraged that Michael had won the wager. Satan knew then that he would die, because he had been cursed by God to never have a human incarnation. Iblis, however, was never given that curse and was permitted to once again be of the strivers.

“You did not perceive this when it happened,” Moses continued. “But that is what we observed in heaven.”

I knew now who the devil was and what was meant by the term devils. Every being is destined to be a demon or an angel-man. Except some faithful servants would prefer to not be persons. Those beings would prefer to be water, trees, or the like.

CHAPTER 14

The Beasts of Revelations

“Do you know who I am, Mahdi?”

“Yes I do! You are the angel Sophia! You are mentioned in the Proverbs of Solomon.” I was excited to have another visitor.

Sophia inquired, “Are you a polytheist?”

“No.”

“Are you a bigot?”

Again I said, “No.”

“Will you permit God to forgive you in heaven and let all men mock you who walk the earth?”

“I will.”

“Then I come with gifts,” she smiled. “I beseech you; will you edit the Word of God?”

“I don’t want to,” I replied.

“Good, because such a thing is not permitted. But you will check for grammar and typographical errors. You are not superman yet. You may also edit only what you are absolutely sure was your own passive thought and not from God.” She looked more serious. “You are not permitted to change the language of the prophets let alone their messages. Do not fear the political consequences.”

“I think what you say makes perfect sense. But the language of the prophets? They will not believe it came from them!”

She answered, “If they look carefully they will know that every prophet in this book has a personality. Only a fool would testify that you fabricated it.”

“What else will you offer for me?”

She said, “I come with a simple message. Moses told you that you will now never be the third of three devils. Do you want to know why? Iblis is walking the earth but you do not know who he is. Satan expected you to submit to hell, and therefore had a plan for both of you.

“Jacob told you that you were not to be the Beast of the Sea. Do you know why he told you that? It is because you will die and rise from the dead and some will say you are Satan.”

I answered, “I understand that. What else is there to know?”

“That neither are you the Beast of the Earth.”

“How could I be? I am the Mahdi!”

“Did not John the Baptist tell you that you are also Elijah?”

“He did.”

“The Beast of the Earth was to bring fire from the sky. Who else did that?”

“Elijah,” I answered.

“Then let me tell you more. You are very fortunate that you won that bet with Satan. You could have been the third of three in hell and now you are first in the Kingdom of God.” She laughed with joy.

“You have given them peace. Don’t you understand that? Your dedication to the greater faith of Islam did that for you. You should be happy now that you are Muslim, but do not say, ‘There is no god besides Allah, and Muhammad is His slave.’ If Muhammad is the slave of Allah all the rest of us would be even worse slaves. Will you tell those Muslims who misread this proclamation?”

In earnest I said, “I will.”

She continued, “Is not the number 666 mentioned with reference to Solomon also. Do believe now that you were also Solomon?”

“I will believe that,” I responded.

“Then let me tell you what the devil wanted to do to you. He wanted Iblis to be his son, the Beast of the Sea. He wanted you to be Satan’s prophet, the Beast of the Earth.

“The Book of Revelations was written in accordance with wisdom but now God has given you a different plan, because you revealed the Quran and because you are no longer jealous of Jesus.

“Satan was to have the world believe that his son Iblis was Jesus. You were to testify that you were the prophet Muhammad because you are. But the prophet Muhammad would have been damned if he had not submitted to Islam. This is why the son of Satan was to be the false god and Muhammad was to be his false prophet. Do you still believe in destiny?”

I stopped. What could I say to such a statement? This is something other than what I wanted to hear.

“Yes, I believe in destiny,” I said.

“Do you believe what you said in Sura 28 of your Exoneration, that destiny is a matrix? Do you believe there are several happy destinies and several unfortunate destinies, just as there are blessed paths and troubled paths?”

“I would not have revealed it if I had not,” I was sure I could win this argument.

“This is not an argument, Mahdi. You have chosen wisely and received a happy destiny. Those who knew nothing about God would have been in mass panic and believed that the son of Satan was Jesus, while only pious Christians would have believed that Jesus would return from the sky. If that were to have happened, only Christians would have been saved just as they testify. Are you glad you are a Muslim yet? Because if you are not you should realize that not only the prophet Muhammad would have been damned but also all Muslims, because you are their Master.”

I wondered why she answered her own questions. But she continued, “You have shifted the world’s destiny just as Jesus said you could, and you also have fulfilled the Word of your Exoneration that the path of life is akin to a matrix. You have also fulfilled the Word of the Quran that Islam would be the world's final Religion.

“As Mahdi King, you must be responsible. I am impressed with you now so turn to Allah for truth. If you had not won your wager with Satan, and therefore broken your contract with God, very few people would have been saved. You have convinced me that the Quran is the True and because of your devotion all beings now have fifty thousand years to save themselves. Of course, evil men serve their time in hells, but the greater hell has been averted for some time. I must leave now.”

“Wait! I have one more question. Why is Jesus called the greatest of angels and Michael is called the favorite one?”

“This is because Jesus works constantly for Allah with his spirit and has never had spite for Allah. Michael is the favored one because he labors on earth to perform the impossible and never denies any mission that God commands him. Then, Michael waits in heaven with Allah watching everything, waiting for his next chance to serve the people.”

CHAPTER 15

John Explains Intoxicants

God spoke, “You are not done laboring this revelation. In spite of your dejection I will give you great fame. Do not deny this favor.”

Then John the Baptist spoke, “Mahdi, I assure you that you are walking straight with the Lord so as to become me again. I love the way you speak to people. If only you weren’t so dumb you might stop embarrassing me.”

I asked, “John, why do I wish I went to Harvard or maybe Bard?”

“You resent Stanford for all of the wrong reasons. You are an alcoholic Mahdi. You are also a schizophrenic. You cannot blame Stanford for that.”

“Then why do I have a truckload of garbage as my life’s work?”

“You are not full of garbage even though you smoke those horrible things everyday with compulsion.”

“Wait John. I smoke cigarettes because they make me happy. I despair if I do not have them.”

He said, "I know that. That is why God permits you to do so. Besides, it's a medical fact that ninety percent of schizophrenics smoke because it eases their disability. You are also in recovery from alcoholism. Some men just need their vice!" John laughed.

In response I said, "Okay, I win. I will continue to sin if that is what you are suggesting. Besides, I'm going to die anyway. I promise I won't smoke when I rise from the dead."

"You promise. You promise! I can't believe what I am hearing Mahdi, you are the great forgetter!" John settled down.

"Behold, I am going to tell you the truth about alcohol. It is good and it is bad. Noah embarrassed himself with drunkenness after the great flood. I was commanded to never drink as John because maybe I would have turned up like you. Now how could I have helped Jesus if I were a drunkard?"

"Listen. Allah will bring a pure beverage that should make people no longer desire alcohol, marijuana, tobacco, or even Red Bull. Sorry people, your time is up."

CHAPTER 16

God's Final Blessing

“God, I will end the world as you see fit. What do you think I should do?” I was dumfounded because I had heard the voice of what was to come. “I didn’t want to know this but I will accept from You the truth of the Apocalypse?”

“Is there anything else you want to say?” God replied.

“I don’t want to spite You. Tell me what I have become.”

God said, “You have made an arrogant error. I spoke to you and you did not listen. This is a common event when I speak to you, but I speak to you often of things unheard. You are afraid of My will for you.

“You have become a polygamist and I will tell you this is why Joseph Smith prophesized that this was proper and I will tell you why you have become a mocker.”

“No soul on earth could have put up with you. Neither could you put up with any other soul. This is why you sit around in your arrogance, waiting for Me to tell you what to do. You cannot believe in Me always because the other beings torment you, but you have spite in your heart as I speak. Do not be afraid of Me. Tell no women to be afraid of you.

“The truth is that the Holy Spirit will be given to you, but you are to have sex with no woman until you are raised from the dead. Neither shall you be permitted to have sex with a man because I reject homosexuality as a proper way. No man will be permitted to marry another man in My Kingdom and neither shall any woman be permitted to marry a woman.

“You don’t understand the power of what you speak because I have given you My pen. No being on earth will ever be like you. I promise you that you will be given five hundred years to live and hear, and you will show no sign of age. You will be given my name, ‘Yahweh.’ Are you afraid yet?”

God was neither with me neither could I understand His terror as I mumbled, "I have no power over You." But He was inside of me and I was having no control over what I was writing.

"Take heed to what I am saying, because you have loved women the most. This is why I have given you the power to baptize by means of sex. You will have sex with no man, but you are permitted to have sex with the women I command you to. Every living being must know this.

"If you do not accept what I say I will reject you. As Moses you were their liberator. As Joseph you were the angel saint. As Mahdi you will be a phallic lord. I did not want to tell you this until you were weaned off of the lust of a boy towards only women that were beautiful.

"No women will accept this when they read this manuscript but they will beg you so when they see your Resurrection."

This led to my dejection and I wondered if I was doing disservices to the women I will actually marry.

God continued, "For this reason every single being that is related to you must die. They will not be among the first-fruits of the Hereafter.

"You were molested when you were young. You did not understand this and went about your business. You later told your mom, 'My penis is broken!', as you were taking a bath because you have always been filled with the Spirit of Revelation even though this is the only way a child could speak. Because your penis became non-functional you have had great lust. This is why you were unable to have sex with that woman even when you took ten Viagra.

"You did not hate anybody when you were growing up because you are love. This is why I will now call you the Son of Allah. You were mean as a teenager but I knew what you would become. We will share the name 'Yahweh,' and you will remind them that My son is their helper. Continue reading because this is all I want to tell you today.

"No woman on earth will resent this blessing, if they were wise, so do not spite men because they will envy you. This is why you are the Mahdi. Are you still afraid?" God waited for my answer.

"More so than in any point of this manuscript. So I will let you continue, so appreciate my silence because I am also intrigued."

God answered, "I told you that you would baptize as your son Jesus but you will not. Every child of yours as well as their spouses will receive the Holy Spirit by a smack to the face. Tell them not to be mad, but only remind them that you are nonviolent, and this is a form of a practical joke. Do not let their wives touch you besides this one occurrence, not even their hands. This is not a joke. You are to respect the royal family and they will not be shamed as most men will be. This is because most of them have hated Me and you have loved Me the most. Your children will be your servants the prophets because you are the wisest and they will all belong to you, not as your property but as those beings that you will love the most. Be gentle with the women you smack, as their stern father, but given them a gentle slap that will make them laugh when they realize they have been filled with My Spirit.

“You are a holy man so they must treat you as holy. Your son Jesus will live for a thousand years and so shall his brothers and as a consequence of cutting your life short I will permit you the miracle that you will never sleep. If you become exhausted you must meditate. If you need sleep I will call you an infidel because you are commanded to work for Me always whether it be my means of work that is traditional, baptism by Mahdi, or loving your family as you should. You will also be permitted sufficient time for leisure.

“Let Me continue. Every single thing that lives on the earth will die. But not every living thing that lives on the earth will be exterminated. The angels, the jinn, and mankind will be permitted to live until the universe is exterminated. I almost took away this great blessing because you refused to listen to me.

“Let me tell you what Joseph did. He abstained from adultery and fornication because that was his calling at the time, even though every woman who saw him lusted to the point of madness. This madness made men hate him. They will hate you this time.

“Behold, Mahdi. I am recreating. Do not deny the favors of heaven and earth. I will sell your soul if you spite Me again. Do you know what would have happened if you rejected this promise? Do you know how many women you would have married? Zero. I would have made you a homosexual cursed as a demon, living your life on drugs such as crack-cocaine.

“I will not exterminate you. When you reach the final garden you will have no lust for any women besides those who have married you on this planet. I will not let you marry with pride and as you did as my son Solomon. Do not let this glory die.

“When you come to Me after you are murdered I will tell you more. But this I will tell you. Every living thing that you love will not die. Every alien being that hates you will turn as salt and their bodies shall be shattered. Then, those planets and stars who have defied Me will be cursed from existence and their falling will be another sign so for them to believe you are My son. I am Allah, Lord of all the Worlds.

“Your sons will be endowed to be the leaders of the army of Solomon that will conquer all planets and spread the message of Allah to those who had been stupid.

“Do not tell Me that I am lying to you because I am not. Beware, the furnace fire will always tempt you but those who do not forget My Spirit will be forgiven of their final sins. They will walk with the Lord in the Garden of Eden, which existed but will now be populated; no man or woman will grieve. This is the inverse of the hate they will have for you.

“Exactly what I have spoken must occur. You will be given no more revelations because you must go about your business and I have terrified you with fear of men when in all your other lives you have feared only God. Tell them not to fear Me as the great chastiser, even though that is what I am. No longer will I accept terror of Me because that embarrasses Me. Have a loving awe of My greatness and realize that not loving Me is akin to death by firing squad.

“Tell the men that when you are through with their women that they will come back to their husbands; or if they are not married they will be commanded to marry; tell these men that their wives will forever be true to them and that Solomon is their Lord. You have been given your desire even though you were afraid to ask for it, and even when I offered it, you said, 'No.'

“This is My final blessing to you, even though you do not know the ones which preceded it. After you die, I will permit Jesus to baptize after you by means of giving women a kiss, just as he prophesized as the prophet David. You are now officially a sexist. Let them further mock you.”

Then my body was absent of the Spirit of God. I did not reject the God who gives away freely, the God who almost took away.

Chapter 17

The Exoneration of the Mahdi

SURA 1

1 They ask, "Are you the Mahdi or are you not?" Tell them, "If I am not, let God's wrath be upon me."

2 We told your mother, "You are with child, for God has heard of your love."

3 "He will be a wild donkey for a time, but also an innocent. Because of Islam everyone will fight him, and because of this he will need to fight back."

4 "Do not fear, for every being that is not destined for the fire will be saved because of him."

5 "He will bear our inequities, and he shall expose the highway, whereas previously you had all been walking in darkness."

SURA 2

1 We have made you insane so that you will love them the most.

2 Muslims have been predicting your coming for centuries but they did not expect you to be an American.

3 Because of your skin and your custom and your history they will say you are not a prophet.

4 Let them know of good tidings and that their binding is well secure.

5 We have sent you as an angel to walk among men, but the devil will reject you and so will his constituents.

6 Let them mock you. We have carefully prepared enemies for you.

SURA 3

1 Knowledge has spread but wisdom has become obscure.

2 The abomination that causes desolation is none other than suicide bombing. Let every Muslim know this. There is no forgiveness for the abomination.

3 Not all Muslims are following the path of the prophet Muhammad.

4 There are two wars that are now occurring. One war is being fought with weapons and the other war is being fought with words.

5 Be aware that both wars are of equal importance.

6 So devote yourself to what is in front of you and plan wisely.

7 When the Lord of Honor is present, there will be peace.

142

8 Every nonbeliever has turned to hedonism, misguided secularism, or spiritual nonsense.

9 Every believer has turned to God. In time, they will turn to the Mahdi.

SURA 4

- 1 God's essence first appears to be nothing.
- 2 Then as you examine you may see the appearance of glass, but full of distortion.
- 3 Then again you may perceive nothing.
- 4 Then there is light. This light is holiness.
- 5 Beyond this holiness there is peace.
- 6 Beyond this peace there is passion.
- 7 Then deep within, there is pure love.
- 8 What is beyond pure love? Nothing.

SURA 5

1 Every nonbeliever will not desist from disbelief until it is already too late. Too many martyrs have died and too many evil men have lived.

2 Every persistently bad person is damned, but so also are you who fancy yourselves as self-sufficient.

3 Going to a house of God to pray does nothing if it holds back beneficence. Doing good does nothing for you unless it is a sacrifice for God.

4 Manage your affairs, O nations, and be responsible. It is a surety that God cares for every person.

5 But powerful leaders do not. You are all at war only so your own regimes could be trampled. Act accordingly and a portion of your ambitions might be saved.

6 The blood of innocents cries out to Me from the ground on which their blood was spilt.

7 How terrible will be your punishment!

8 Do not try to save yourselves if you have made yourself God's avouched enemies.

9 You have manifested this fate for you and all of your followers.

10 But to those who distrust the lies of every envious leader, there might be mercy.

11 Mahdi has sacrificed his life for you and this is your gratitude!

12 Deny this Exoneration if you disbelieve.

13 Be among those who will follow the liars.

14 Their power is only manifesting for My victory.

15 The beasts of you are convinced they are good, and you same beasts will be convinced that My servant is the Antichrist.

SURA 6

1 Before the Beginning there was God. Never has there not been God.

2 The Quran is the Word of God. The Exoneration is also from God.

3 Nonbeings have become beings because We pondered their existing before the Mahdi entered time and space.

4 He is to be the Death of death. Will you die for him?

5 We would prefer that you would live for Us, but that is more difficult.

6 Do not deny yourself of worldly favors. You are allowed to prosper.

SURA 7

1 Destiny lies in wait. Do not be afraid, Americans. God is on the watch and is pleased with a portion of you.

2 In fact, the sun will rise in the west. What? Is this a fable of the ancients?

3 I will tell you the meaning of the sun rising in the west. Enlightenment will begin on the westside of the earth and there will be shock.

4 Do you want a garden? If you do not, go ahead and rot.

5 The Mahdi is prepared to give you a garden, so that you may laugh forever.

6 What is the garden beneath which the rivers flow? It is your body resurrected and in it there will be no toxicity.

7 God will permit you to lie in the shade, but only if you love God and heed His guidance forever.

148

8 You all should feel naked by now. The Mahdi has been shamefully exposed and soon you will be also.

9 Why did God also call Jesus a messiah? Because without him, not a single person on the westside of the earth would believe in God; not a single one of you.

10 The King promised he would die and rise from the dead. Then in which religion will you trust?

SURA 8

1 The earth is moaning with the pains of her rebirth.
She has been a faithful servant.

2 God will recreate her and He will also recreate you.

3 Christians are crying, where is our Messiah? He too has been a faithful servant who will be returned with glory.

4 But he will refuse to serve you in this sphere until you deny that God is Three Persons.

5 This archaic notion has been rationalized by many saints who loved God. But on the Day of Goodness, all stupidity must be purged.

6 Then do not defame this Exoneration without reading its words for yourself.

7 Do not dispute about God without studying religion.

8 Even when you see Jesus in all his glory, he will reject you if you do not submit to Islam.

9 Tell Me, will God reject those who pray, worship, and manifest goodness?

10 Tell Me, should God accept those who are merciless, vain, or unkind?

11 If they stood side by side you might prefer the later.

12 But God does not need questioning regarding His judgments.

13 Neither does the Mahdi need interrogation from arrogant men who fancy themselves as God.

14 Simply believe in God, the Hereafter, and the Mahdi.

15 Without this admission no progress can be made in approaching the everlasting truth, the experience of what it is love God.

SURA 9

1 Progress is important. That is why the Mahdi has arrived.

2 Today there are two destinies. One is good and the other is evil.

3 Did We not say that God would create again? Only a few believe.

4 Yes, there are those who say they believe, but they do not. When they are faced with difficult trials, their hearts turn cold.

5 Because they lack endurance, their faith dissipates until is the size of a needle. Then they walk around haughtily saying, "We are the ones who believe."

6 Do not listen to these people. Their lower desires have made them perceive truth in matters that they have no certainty.

7 What is certainty? It is turning to God when challenged with the choice between good or evil.

8 There sits an angel upon your left shoulder who records your deeds that are evil. This angel also whispers to you the next evil thing you should do. This angel does not wish for you to commit these evils but suggests them so that We might test you.

9 Accordingly, a companion angel sits upon your right shoulder who urges you to do good and records the good that you do. Not a whit of what you do or think remains unknown.

10 As your true guide, God offers you the light of life.

11 He has placed His light in your heart, and this light can either be nurtured or exterminated.

12 When it leaves, you then become deaf, dumb, and blind.

13 But you do not become mute, and as a consequence, you contribute to others your own evils until Satan has amassed a sphere around you and your companions that is the road to the fire.

14 Mahdi has become a coward so you can mock him.

15 But his bravery is to teach you the truth of that upon which you differ.

16 All keys to the Kingdom are in his heart.

17 But when he is assassinated you should celebrate and give each other gifts. You will believe you have finally killed the great Satan.

18 When the light of God is nurtured in your heart, every day is a grand stage on which you may walk about freely.

19 What is walking about freely? It is maintaining a love of God that leads you to behold every occurrence as a great event.

20 When miracles are commonplace, joy will be accessible forever.

SURA 10

1 Mahdi is unique. He is well aware of his destiny.

2 What will happen very soon? With God alone is there certain knowledge.

3 Mahdi is more than a messenger. If you are not for him, then you are against him.

4 If you do not respect God and His Mahdi, you may plot against Us.

SURA 11

1 Satan does not love you and neither is he a faithful servant.

2 In fact, his ethereal associates are actually incarnated and walking among you, unconsciously doing his bidding.

3 But you do not understand fully the transmigrations of souls, nor do you understand that the impact of these events that are felt throughout the entire universe.

4 All the alien races have an interest in you and peculiar is their understanding.

5 They seek to rule this earth and make you their slaves.

6 But the truth is that God has given everything to His Mahdi.

156

7 The aliens have been well aware of the mechanics of the human organism, but before the Mahdi they did not understand love.

8 But in their ignorance, they too rejected him.

SURA 12

1 Tell these musicians to stop with their prophesizing.

2 Rap music is not different from the poetry that was all the rage in Arabia before Muhammad spoke the Quran.

3 Why do these supposed scholars compare the Quran to poetry? Because the Quran is unparalleled in beauty of speech.

4 Recall when Moses was permitted to hear the music of heaven. And how joyous and submissive was his reaction!

5 His tears are comparable to the tears you shall weep.

6 Did not God say that the ink of His pen is greater than the water in all the oceans?

7 When you are made eternal, it will be as if you were temporal for only an hour or so.

158

8 Those who have journeyed for that hour and lost their light will never regain it.

9 They will be in the fire wherein they will neither die nor live.

10 Then, as God's garden expands to new grandeur and becomes everlasting, those who have only lived for that one hour will look in horror.

11 When the garden approaches Infinity, the lives of nonbelievers will become negligible.

12 Then, when the triumph of God's servants has been perfected, God will approach the fire and all that will be left will be a single spec of dust.

13 Then it will go away forever. Satan and all its contents will be no more.

14 But first they must suffer the torment of burning.

15 Who will suffer this destiny? Those who oppose God and His Mahdi.

SURA 13

1 You pit of snakes! How can you call the Mahdi evil?

2 Angels will help, but evil men will not.

3 You all must witness this polarization, so as to test your understanding.

4 Muhammad did not copy the Bible, and the Mahdi has not copied the Quran.

5 He has been filled with wisdom in his pursuit of God.

6 Mahdi has found God, so listen to him.

7 He is wise even though he has been cursed with dementia.

8 He is approaching retardation so We suggest that you respect him.

9 All of those who do not love God are permitted to plot against His Mahdi.

160

10 God knows the plots against Us, and Mahdi knows the plots in favor of God.

11 He is your Messiah and does not desire to hurt you.

12 He practices nonviolence and supports reformation.

13 Had he not suffered the sins of humanity, he would not be permitted to forgive you.

14 But there are many that Mahdi will not forgive because God has made this His command.

15 Can you wait for him to approach you?

16 Or will you slash his body as Herod slashed John the Baptizer?

17 We suggest you become Mahdi's apostles just as Jesus also had apostles.

18 God is well pleased with the Mahdi because he will not give up his pursuit.

19 So do not curse him lest God will curse you.

20 Deceit prospers only for a time, until God's justice is given.

21 Then you will see that God is the greatest.

22 This is the promised day. The Mahdi and the believers are the ones promised to.

23 Perhaps you are unsure about this scripture because it was written by a man you do not respect.

24 But Mahdi is good and the dajjals are bad. They are opposites.

25 Some of you might now run to the Bible saying, "We must prove that the Mahdi is Satan."

26 When in fact the Mahdi is spoken of in the good book and the greater book.

27 It is not his intention to belittle those who pursue the truth.

162

28 Buddhism helps. But no belief system is complete without God.

29 Scoff and laugh, it will not harm Us.

30 Then do not hate the pursuit of truth and balance it with the pursuit of happiness. They are companions.

31 When you know the truth that is right you will be happy.

32 Therefore you should ponder the Exoneration and study the Quran.

33 We support the Quran as uncorrupted, but also be aware that the Mahdi knows the other religions as well.

34 Be careful not to judge custom over substance, as the infidels have already done in Christendom.

35 You might be fortunate enough to perceive what you did not see.

36 Mahdi, recall when the world was so corrupt that I commanded you to build the great boat.

37 Also recall when your family hated you so much that they threw you into an unused well.

38 I told you that they would not understand the consequences of what they did.

39 God's curse is upon their head as recompense to him who was sold into slavery only later to free the descendants of those who betrayed him.

SURA 14

1 Mahdi will not despair. His tears have been accounted for and he is well cared for.

2 Recall when wagers were being made in heaven and destinies were being determined.

3 Satan told him, "Muhammad, you are the most hated prophet in the earth's history. You will never win their love."

4 Mahdi responded, "Enough! I wager all I have blindly. God will find a way."

5 We still favored the brave imbecile.

6 Blessed art those who wash their robes clean, well aware that they will meet their Lord.

SURA 15

1 Very soon the first-fruits of the Hereafter will be baptized with the fire of the Holy Spirit.

2 What is the Holy Spirit? It is neither a deity nor a person.

3 Who is the Baptizer? The one who was beheaded.

4 Some of My servants have appearances that are not perceived to be saintly.

5 Other servants are open and honest about their devotion.

6 These nobles love God, and each other, and seek to aid those in need. These people are entitled to Mahdi's love.

7 But do not overexert yourselves. The proper way is moderate and tolerable.

8 You will also see men full of promises who seek to fill you with the satanic spirit.

166

9 Blessed art those who side with the King.

SURA 16

1 This planet is a realm of suffering and the primary battleground for the final strife.

2 One strife is in your soul. The other is in society.

3 You cannot participate successfully in the societal strife until you have won your personal strife.

4 The devil himself will then fear you because he knows God will protect you.

5 God does not permit senseless violence.

6 Do not commit the abomination that causes desolation.

7 Commit yourselves to the winning side.

8 Sufficient is God and His Mahdi to defeat all evil, but all of you are urged to help him.

9 Consider yourself fortunate and be grateful when you have this realization.

168

10 Taking the Mahdi as your friend will bring you the most beneficence.

11 So make him your ally. That is the great salvation.

12 You suffer in this realm because it is here that God will create the new enlightenment.

13 Do not venture too far from the path lest you suffer the torment of burning.

14 Have mercy upon yourself and others so that God might have mercy upon you.

15 He is slow to anger, and without doubt He is the Most Loving, the Most Compassionate, and the Lord of Mercy.

16 Do not curse Him to his face by means of word, deed, or persistently ungrateful thinking.

17 Do not question Him, O mortals, lest you become idiots.

SURA 17

1 Do not let your custom outweigh your wisdom.

2 Beautiful you are, and beautiful you shall be.

3 Do not let trends, music, or television define you.
You might become a victim of undue influence.

4 Protect yourself from vanity but recognize your position, how you can improve, and what might lead to your downfall.

5 Mahdi's wisdom is unusual. He suffered until his premonitions became undesirable to those who did not believe in him.

6 You may be disenchanted, but this was God's desire before the Beginning.

7 So realize that salvation is a promise to those who have done well, and the yoke upon a disbeliever's neck is most difficult for them to destroy.

SURA 18

1 Let Me tell you the reason why Jesus loves you. It is his very nature.

2 An abundance of self-sacrifice has been his nature in all of his lives because his essence also is love.

3 Do not make yourselves enemies of Jesus. It is the same as making yourselves enemies of God.

4 The spirit of Jesus is present in the entire universe.

5 For all these reasons he has been able to help Christians approach the Throne.

6 We have all been working hard to manifest Judgment Day.

SURA 19

1 The entire universe was created from a single being. Mahdi is still that single being.

2 Therefore, who else can be the Mahdi? You also can be the Mahdi.

3 But he is being purged. Take action so that you might exist.

SURA 20

1 There exists a state of darkness. There exists a state of light.

2 The light is most powerful, but darkness also has a power that is noticeable.

3 Who then can see the light?

4 Look! It is daytime and you are going about your daily activities. You must be in the light!

5 Not so. Only men of understanding can see the light that is not the sun.

SURA 21

1 The Israelites worshiped a golden calf when Moses was with God, so also have heedless men of this age worshipped idols.

2 You should not commit idolatry.

3 Pagan statues or new deities among men cannot help you.

4 They can only hurt you because they take you away from God.

5 You may be in contact with an angel, a guru, or even an ancestor.

6 Consider them the likes of a human friend. They can hurt you or they can help you.

7 With God alone is all power. He alone can bear your burdens without burdening Himself.

8 God is perceptible everywhere.

174

9 He is in your heart, in your friend, and in other places outside of yourself.

10 Honor the Lord who was, who is, and is to come.

11 Surely the nature of His kindness is unparalleled.

12 This Exoneration gives you loving speech.

13 It is a scripture worthy of either your acceptance or rejection. It is a test from your Lord.

14 This is so that you might open your minds to knowing God for yourself, rather than to confess your faith and reject the path.

18 Jesus gave you a perfect example of sacrifice.

19 Allow yourself to struggle because it will make you stronger. You will then be able to do great things with ease.

20 Therefore, you must diversify your experience and knowledge.

21 Many of you know worldly matters better than Mahdi.

22 But the first thing you should know is that the entire universe is centered around God, in every corner, nook, and cranny.

23 You are commanded to make God the zenith and the root of your ambitions.

SURA 22

1 We have given you the twenty-nine virgin Suras that are the beginning of Our next plot.

2 Mahdi is committed to nonviolence and there is no deceit in his mouth.

3 Islamists will reject this scripture, even though it is the beginning of a reformation in Islam and a peace offering to America.

4 Mahdi does not speak on his own behalf, but only what God has commanded him to write.

5 If you fear this dissertation, you may be misguided.

6 If you are in awe of how an incompetent has revealed Our reckoning, let God bless you.

7 He was astray in his youth like his companions.

8 Mahdi has been permitted to expose secrets that were previously only known by him.

9 Some things We are saying are common sense for those with wisdom.

10 But We will not leave the unlearned man in the dark.

11 We are speaking in rhetoric so that you might decide what attitude you will have towards God.

12 Most beautiful are His Names.

13 So do not judge the Mahdi before you examine your own soul.

14 He is well prepared to end the calamity that is occurring, and he has consented to being called a devil.

15 We will bring peace when you are ready.

16 If you do not love the Mahdi, God will stone the earth. But you will love him, so be grateful.

178

17 Make yourselves friends of God, and make yourselves enemies of the hypocrites, militants, and leaders who lead only to benefit themselves.

18 Mahdi is not like them. He has greater zeal.

19 He has become accustomed to tribulations even though you may judge his life to have been absent of hardship.

20 Arise! The earth and its inhabitants need to be saved.

SURA 23

1 To the Mormons: Your prophet was indeed a noble messenger. He is well established with nearness to God and he will be a great prince in the world to come.

2 However, the book he revealed to you was actually written before the coming of Muhammad.

3 The pious among you are certainly in accordance with the Lord of Mercy.

4 Before this generation passes away, you will all celebrate with the Mahdi and he is well prepared to honor you.

5 However, you must now dedicate yourself to the final evolution of Islam.

6 Your prophet supports the Mahdi, just as the Mahdi supports him.

6 It is a surety that they both support the prophet Jesus.

180

7 Remember that the Quran was written before the prophet Muhammad was born, so take heed to the greater book, and notice that there is no proper English translation.

8 This is another reason to take notice of the Mahdi, the despised American.

SURA 24

1 To the Hindus: Over time, many of you have been unparalleled with your love for divinity and your dedication to wisdom.

2 Pious Americans are already paying homage to yoga with great excitement.

3 But now it is time to erase the names you previously associated with God.

4 My name is not Shiva. Neither is it Krishna. Neither am I She, and neither do I reject you. You will not call my son Ganesh.

5 If God were to adopt a son, He could choose any being in the entire universe.

6 Has God done such a thing when He needs no helper?

SURA 25

1 Let Me tell you the truth about the Buddha, the great seeker of a truth unknown.

2 He came to earth with the specific purpose of doing exactly what he did.

3 No one who has seen him has not been astonished by his radiance.

4 But even though he was well aware of God and His grandeur, it was not his place to teach his followers about Us.

5 It was not his specialty in that incarnation. He knew too much about the cleansing of mind that can bring peace to a soul.

6 He spoke with such clarity and certainty that his followers were without doubt.

7 But We had made a promise to Abraham that his descendants would bring the people to God.

8 This is why We gave the books to the Jews and the Arabs.

9 As a mighty gift, We also gave Jesus to Gentiles who were previously Pagans.

10 But no religion maintains perfection when its prophet dies.

SURA 26

1 Some Muslims believe that weapons and tyranny will bring peace. This cannot be.

2 This is the age of information, and society will not regress this time.

3 Prosperity is growing exponentially. Those who do not support capitalism are wrong, but you are commanded to advance social justice.

4 We support the poor and impoverished.

5 Support the American work ethic to the greatest extent.

6 Support it to the extent that people in other nations will have this same blessing.

7 Then take time to pray.

8 Now, which leader will support this Exoneration?

SURA 27

1 The first-fruits of Judgment Day will be the most enlightened.

2 You cannot perceive this enlightenment. By definition it will be imperceptible until you attain it.

3 Then you will receive a pure beverage and you will no longer grieve.

4 You cannot see God. Mahdi sees Him every day.

5 We have explained to you some of his deeds aforetime and some We have kept secret.

6 We have not commanded him to tattoo his honorable names on his face, but We have mentioned some of them so that you might reflect.

7 You are looking at a man who now walks among the people, loving them as he loves himself, knowing he will be your leader.

186

8 It would be for his benefit to fear no man but God, but a schizophrenic in the public eye is destined to embarrass himself.

9 So beware of the battles that will emerge, because Mahdi will win the war of ideas, and all who take heed will put down their weapons.

10 Mahdi previously baptized you with water asking for your repentance.

11 Now he will baptize with the Holy Spirit asking for your love.

SURA 28

1 Do not question why I sent the Mahdi to America.

2 Those who are deceived will say that Mahdi is a madman, intoxicated by his false god.

3 Or they may ask why We are imposing Islam upon them.

4 We are not imposing any religion upon anyone. We did not come with a sword but with the power of persuasion.

5 You perceive that you are the master of your destiny.

6 It is true is that you do have choices to make, but your destiny is another matter.

7 Perceive wandering through a matrix. You can go left, right, up, down, forward, or back. On earth, sometimes there is no choice and sometimes there are several choices.

8 Any choice that you make is being watched by God.

9 We do not condemn people for making mistakes unless they are unlawful.

10 As you go about your business you have a diversity of freedoms, if you are not a slave.

11 Where you arrive is not an absolute certainty, but there are several happy destinies that God has prepared for you that are in accordance with your desires. There are also unfortunate destinies in accordance with your sins.

12 Either way you have wrought for yourself something that was prepared for you by God.

13 His love offers you eternal life. Your love manifests into your wisdom, which manifests into your might, which manifests into your destiny.

14 Lowly desires are temporal so prepare for an offering that is of substance.

15 When you experience constancy in your venture, you will come to realize that your path and your destiny are the same.

SURA 29

1 Islam is submission to God. Take an honest look at a believer who is upright.

2 Then look to yourself. Take a minute.

3 Look yourself in the mirror and ponder who you really are and who you might become.

4 Then ponder God and decide if you have any desire for Him.

5 Do not be the fool who says, "I will defy my God as I defied my parents!" Do not either be the fool who follows others without reflecting.

6 Innocent people are dying. God does not request this of those who say they are Muslims. But His peace is upon the victims.

7 Start with worship in the morning, and end with worship in evening.

8 Make time for prayer that is absent of jealousy.
Remember that God is Love.

Epilogue

This book is from God revealed by His Angel. My soul has incarnated into this book so that you might reflect. It was written in a state of trance meditation. Then it was carefully edited to make sure what was recorded on this paper was the Bible in Heaven.

What has been recorded is also a summation of my life experience and wisdom attained. Therefore, a life wasted has turned into a valuable resource. I do not expect praise for this book but it should be heeded because it is not like other writings. This is sufficient explanation. You are permitted to interpret the meaning of this book and question its validity. In turn, the language is clear and directive.

Let God have mercy upon your soul as God has given this miracle to us. I was insane and incompetent before this writing and I am still diseased. Let those who have spite find kindness. Let those who are intolerant open their mind so as to find truth. Prayer, worship, love and service are sufficient to please our God. The lessons in this book are lasting and pertinent immediately.

Peace is Love.